

WOMAN, 81, DIES OF BROKEN NECK IN FALL SUNDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Margaret (Heintzelman) Dittenhafer, 81, was found dead shortly before noon Sunday at the foot of a flight of stairs at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Beamer, Aspers R. D., when members of the family returned from church.

A broken neck caused death and apparently the injury was suffered when the aged woman, who was blind, fell down a flight of stairs leading from the first floor to the second floor of the home. The body was discovered by a ten-year-old grandson, Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, investigated.

Mrs. Dittenhafer had resided at the Beamer home for the last four years. Her husband, James Dittenhafer, died in 1941. The deceased was a native of Franklin county, but had spent most of her life in Adams and Cumberland counties. She was a daughter of the late Andrew and Mary (Deardorf) Heintzelman and was a member of the Goodwill Lutheran church.

Services Wednesday

Surviving are these children: Howard O. Dittenhafer, Philadelphia; Mrs. Beamer, with whom she resided; Mrs. Victor Kump, Boyertown R. D.; Mrs. Oscar Starnes, Gardners R. 2; David R. Highspire, and James O. Chevy Chase, Maryland. There are 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. These brothers and sisters also survive: Edward and Harry Heintzelman, both of Gettysburg R. 2; Mrs. Effie Willet, Hanover, and Mrs. Meade Hamilton, Altoona.

Funeral services from the Roush-Dugan funeral home in Bendersville, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, with the Rev. George W. Harrison, Bendersville Methodist pastor, officiating. Interment in Fiohr's church cemetery.

HOLY NAME UNIT MEETS SUNDAY AT NEW OXFORD

Plans for resumption of quarterly meetings and for a joint Holy Hour to be held some time in the near future were discussed Sunday afternoon at a meeting of the Southern Regional Holy Name society at New Oxford.

The session was the first in two years for the organization which includes all Holy Name societies in York, Adams and Franklin counties, with intervening meetings called off because of the gasoline and other restrictions caused by the war.

Officers of the organization were asked to set the date and make arrangements for the Holy Hour to be held somewhere in the three counties for the Holy Name members of all Catholic churches in the section.

13 Parishes Represented

The Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, pastor of the McSherrytown Catholic church, was one of the speakers at the session having as his topic, "Prayer," which he termed one of the most potent forces in man's life. Other speakers included the Rev. W. J. Weaver, Dallastown, Harrisburg diocese Holy Name director; the Rev. William J. Burke, Abbottstown; the Rev. Joseph Gotwalt, Fairfield; and the Rev. Mark P. McKelvey, Hanover.

Thirteen parishes were represented by the 80 members attending the sessions in Immaculate Conception hall at New Oxford. Ryland Robinson, president of the Immaculate Conception parish Holy Name society, welcomed the group and Albert Weaver, McSherrytown, president of the region, presided at the session.

The next meeting of the group will be held the second Sunday in October at St. Vincent's Catholic church, Hanover.

$550 Damage In Car-Truck Crash

Damage estimated at about $550 resulted when a car and a truck sideswiped Saturday morning about 3:30 o'clock, two and a half miles west of Hanover on the Gettysburg road. Pvt. Harold Sheads of the Gettysburg substation of the state police investigated.

The officer reported that an east-bound car operated by Pius T. Moore, Hanover R. 4, and a west-bound truck driven by Clyde B. McCormick, Big Poole, Md., collided near the center of the highway. The impact knocked the rear wheels out from under the truck which struck a guardrail.

No one was injured and no charges were brought. Damage totaled about $550, the officer estimated.

Wounded Soldier In U. S. Hospital

Sergeant Roy K. Mickley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickley, Orrtanna, R. 1, torpedoed twice off Casablanca in November, 1942, and seriously wounded in the invasion of France, has arrived in this country for medical treatment.

Sergeant Mickley telephoned his parents from New York on Saturday advising them that he had just arrived from England by plane and that he was being sent to the Valley Forge Memorial hospital where he will undergo an operation on his leg.

The Orrtanna soldier suffered shrapnel wounds in the shoulder, leg and right thumb during the invasion of France. He was removed to a hospital in England and later returned to the states by airplane.

In his telephone conversation on Saturday from New York he told his parents that he was "feeling fine" but gave no details of his wounding, the nature of his injuries or other information.

He was torpedoed out of two ships during the invasion of Casablanca within a 22-hour period. The second rescue ship took him to the states. Mickley has crossed the Atlantic five times.

Services Wednesday

Surviving are these children: Howard O. Dittenhafer, Philadelphia; Mrs. Beamer, with whom she resided; Mrs. Victor Kump, Boyertown R. D.; Mrs. Oscar Starnes, Gardners R. 2; David R. Highspire, and James O. Chevy Chase, Maryland. There are 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. FIREMEN WILL COLLECT SCRAP HERE THURSDAY

The Gettysburg fire company today announced its hopes to be "practically buried" under a flood of waste paper and other salvageable articles when it conducts its July scrap drive, Thursday afternoon and evening, beginning at 4 o'clock.

Backing up an appeal last week by Donald Nelson, head of the WPB, that everyone in the country turn in as much waste paper as possible to the salvaging agencies, the firemen today urged all townspeople to scour cellars and attics in an attempt to secure every possible scrap of paper during the July drive on Thursday.

"Paper is one of our greatest needs at the present time," Vernon E. Corie, chairman of the salvage drive, said today. "Millions of magazines, books, newspapers, and other paper products are working on a reduced basis or have closed entirely due to the failure of individuals to give all of the scrap paper they can to the various salvage drives of the nation."

"Paper—A War Material"

"It seems so little to ask—that everyone save all the paper that accumulates in the house in order to give it for use in the war effort. So many thousands of things used by the men in the armed forces are made of paper that it has become one of the great materials of war. The only way to secure much of the paper is by re-converting old paper into new pulp. Lumber is one of the most critical of war materials and is needed for use in so many things that little of it can be used to make paper. It would seem unnecessary that the needs of lumber in other industries should not be met because some of the lumber is going to make paper when that paper could be made from scrap which everyone has in his home and which can be turned in for salvage so easily."

"Not only the newspapers and magazines are needed. But also the paper in the waste baskets of the town. If everyone merely took the paper from his wastebasket for one week, more paper would be supplied than we have received in any scrap drive so far."

"Certainly everyone is in back of the war effort sufficiently to bundle what paper is around the home and place it on the sidewalks Thursday so that we can pick it up and deliver it to a junk dealer who will send it immediately to the nearest paper mill to be converted into articles of war."

Glenn E. Sell Gets Promotion To Cpl.

(Special To The Times)
Air Transport Command Base, India (By Mail)—Glenn E. Sell has been promoted from Pfc. to corporal. It has been announced here by his commanding officer.

Cpl. Sell has been in the China-Burma-India theater since August, 1943, serving with the India-China wing of the Air Transport Command. This is the Army Air Forces unit charged with maintaining the famed aerial supply route from India to China over the "Hump" of the Himalaya Mountains in northern Burma.

In civilian life Cpl. Sell was employed in a Gettysburg furniture factory. He is classified as an army medical technician. His wife, during his service overseas, is making her home in Biglerville.

HELD AS VAGRANTS

Richard Gray, Winter Haven, Fla., and John Singleton, Savannah, Ga., were charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehor with being vagrants. The charges were laid Saturday by Borough Officer Clark W. Staley. The men were confined today to the county jail.

C. L. MEHRING, LITTLESTOWN, DIES ON SUNDAY

Chiron L. Mehring, prominent Littlestown merchant, died Sunday morning at 10:49 o'clock at his home on East King street after an illness of a year. He would have been 69 years old on August 16.

Active for many years in civic affairs, Mr. Mehring became ill about a year ago.

He was a son of the late Solomon S. Mehring and Isabelle (Sell) Mehring. He married the former Miss Beulah R. Gitt, sister of Dr. Chester Gitt, Gettysburg, on April 9, 1902.

The deceased was in the hardware business for 45 years. For thirty years he was a partner in the firm of Basehor and Mehring and for the past 15 years was head of the C. L. Mehring company.

Active in Town

Mr. Mehring was a member of the Littlestown town council for 16 years and was president for two terms. He was a member of the Alpha fire company, No. 1, of Littlestown and the Littlestown fish and game commission. He was active in the banking business for 20 years and helped to organize the Littlestown State Bank and was a former president of the old Littlestown Savings Institution. He was also a member of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Mt. Carmel Cemetery association. He was also a director of other organizations.

Fraternally Mr. Mehring was a member of Patmos Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, No. 345, of Hanover, and the Hanover Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons. He was a member of the Gettysburg Commandery, Knights Templar and the I. O. O. F. Lodge of Littlestown and a charter member of the Littlestown Rotary club. Mr. Mehring had a perfect attendance record in the Rotary club for 11 years.

URGENT COUNTIANS TO PURCHASE 'E' BONDS IN DRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. Adams County were asked today by the county War Finance committee to dig a little deeper into their pockets so that the county may reach its quota of "E" bond sales before the end of this month.

Meeting Saturday afternoon at the First National bank building, chairmen of the various county committees of the War Finance committee paid high tribute to the co-operation and business interests of the county and those with representatives in the county whose purchases put the county over the top in the Fifth War Loan drive.

At the same time the chairmen viewed with some alarm the failure of the county to meet its "E" bond quota. Individuals who are scheduled to buy $650,000 worth of "E" bonds according to the quota set for the county, are approximately $399,000 behind in their purchases so far and every effort is being made to reach the goal by the end of the current month.

"E" Bonds' Importance

The "E" bond campaign is possibly the most important part of the current War Bond campaign, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman, pointed out. While the purchases of bonds by the corporations and business places supplied the immediate need of the nation for money with which to buy the necessities for the men and women in the armed forces, the long-range (Please Turn to Page 5)

Here And There News Collected At Random

Women of Adams County can "mine" tin in their own kitchens sufficient for 133 Flying Fortresses this year.

This figure was announced by J. A. Stewart, vice-president of the American Can company, on the basis of canned foods consumed by civilians in the county last year. On the basis of last year's consumption, civilians will open 3,194,232 cans of food this year, Mr. Stewart said. According to a table recently issued by the government, 25,000 tin cans provide tin sufficient for one Flying Fortress.

The government has issued another urgent appeal for waste paper.

This is an all-important salvage material... and everyone can help in this effort. Don't throw away or burn paper. Save every scrap. Try to save at least one bundle a week. The armed forces need mountains of waste paper.

Business firms, manufacturers and other industries are urged to dig out their old files... letters not directly contractual, old correspondence, old records, old bookkeeping books, old general ledgers, cash books, cancelled checks, invoices, paid bills and other old paper that has no direct usefulness.

All of this paper can be used to protect ammunition, foods, medicines. Life-saving blood plasma, etc.

Salvage every piece of waste paper you can. Every bit helps.

Pennsylvania early 1944-crop potatoes, mostly of the Cobbler variety, were placed under ceiling by OPA today. Margins for various channels of distribution are similar to those now in effect, and the only change is in the base price at the source of production. The f.o.b. shipping point price for a 100-pound bag of U. S. No. 1 potatoes is $2.80. This reflects a retail ceiling of 25 cents for a 5-pound unit of sale, effective July 22.

Private Robert Bixler, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Blaine E. Bixler, of Littlestown, writes the following from France:

"Some time ago I wrote you a letter from England. Now I'm writing a few lines from sunny France. As you know the Allies have been here nearly a month now and other things beside the fighting and military needs are beginning to get organized. We've been getting cigarettes and candy and other (Please Turn to Page 2)

Wounded

Pvt. Dale Edward "Ted" Deardorf, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Erle R. Deardorf, Carlisle street, who was wounded in action in Normandy, is now a patient in an English hospital. He served with the Ninth Division, among the first to take part in the invasion of the continent.

PITCHES HAY ON 88TH BIRTHDAY

Criss Shank, Biglerville R. 1, spent his eighty-eighth birthday anniversary today—as he has spent many other birthdays—pitching hay. He worked along with other harvest hands today on the farm of A. H. Friedline, Biglerville R. D. near Benders church, just as he did on Saturday and as he expects to do on Tuesday and later in the week, weather permitting.

Mr. Shank, who has engaged in farming and truck gardening all of his life, resides between Biglerville and Arendtsville and frequently walks two miles to Biglerville to shop or transact other business. For many years he attended Farmers' Market here.

He was born and reared in Adams county and is a lifelong member of the Mummasburg Menomotte church.

On Saturday after Mr. Shank had spent the day pitching hay in the fields and working in the mow while the wagons were unloaded, he was guest of honor at a birthday dinner at the Friedline home. His wife was there as were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shank, and their son, Nelson, Jr., and the members of the Friedline family.

British Launch Offensive South Of Caen; Reds Take Grodno; Advance In Italy

By NOLAN NORGARD

Rome, July 17 (AP)—American troops climbed in relentlessly on Livorno today after capturing the dominating height of Monte Maggiore and pushing on up the Italian west coast to the edge of Montenero, only four miles from the heart of the big port.

Simultaneously other American forces slammed forward in the Era valley to within five and one-half miles of the Arno river in a broad flanking movement well east of Livorno and Pisa.

The newest gains brought the Fifth army up against strong German defensive positions and fierce fighting raged all along the front, with the enemy launching sharp counterattacks.

French Hold Gains

An official announcement said French troops of the Fifth army, which were credited with capturing Poggendorf over the week-end, had driven back one heavy counter-attack and were holding to their positions.

The heaviest German counter-attack came in the Era valley at Campanoli, the point of the deepest American penetration. Under cover of night the Nazis struck with a considerable force, rolling the Doughboys back a "few hundred yards," a spokesman said.

Later in the night the Americans rushed out again with equal fury and retook the lost ground.

German tanks which had been withdrawn from active fighting in many sectors recently were thrown back into this battle.

Take Other Towns

Deep inland Lorenzana, 11 miles from the coast, fell to other Fifth army troops who pushed on within a half mile of Crispina, which is 12 miles east and a little north of Livorno. Uscigliano, 14 miles due east of Livorno, was taken. It was found heavily mined and booby-trapped.

On the Eighth army front, German defense difficulties grew and losses mounted with the British capture of the key communications center of Arezzo.

By yesterday afternoon Lt. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's forward elements were three miles north and west of the town, but were meeting stout opposition.

Divide Offices Of Local Committee

The local committee on colored church work met at the home of Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, Sunday night, with Dr. Dwight P. Putnam, chairman, presiding. A budget was adopted and plans for the ensuing year decided upon.

At the request of Mrs. Buehler, who has been secretary-treasurer of the group since it was organized in 1937, the office was divided. The Rev. Robert M. Hunt was elected treasurer and Dr. Putnam and Mrs. Buehler were retained as chairman and secretary, respectively.

In addition to the above the following members were present: Mrs. Berle S. Rosensiegel, the Rev. Ralph R. Green, the Rev. Howard S. Fox, T. J. Winbrenner, the Rev. Charles K. Gibson and John H. Knickerbocker. The committee will meet again in the fall.

PEACH PRICES "CONTROLLED"

Fresh peaches are now under price control at all levels of distribution from the packing house door to the consumer's dining table. The OPA has announced. Ceiling prices at retail become effective July 22.

The community ceiling price for best quality locally-produced peaches has been set at 14¢ per pound. The producer's ceiling price for peaches packed and graded in standard bushel baskets is $3.66 at the packing house door or shipping point rail platform. If packed in half-bushel baskets, the f.o.b. shipping point ceiling price is $1.99. The weight of a standard bushel of peaches produced in Pennsylvania is 48 pounds.

The new regulation covering the item of fresh peaches is very explicit in classification of containers, marking requirements, and definitions of the various types of distributors agents concerned with the sales of peaches. It also lists very complete tables of mark-ups for all types of sales.

The average cost of a bushel of Pennsylvania peaches delivered to the premises of a retailer will not be over $4.29.

R. C. To Collect Furs For Seamen

The Adams county Red Cross office today announced that it has become a collecting agency for the Fur Vest Project, New York, which has been created to make fur vests for merchant seamen for use while on the high seas.

Workers of the fur industry make the vests from old furs which are no longer of use to their owners and have been donated through the Red Cross or other agencies for the work.

The vests are made without cost for the merchant seamen with the fur industry workers making them voluntarily in their spare time.

Persons in Adams county who have old furs they wish to donate can bring them to the Red Cross office and they will be forwarded, it was stated.

Hold Rites Sunday For Amos Stoner

Funeral services for Amos Stoner, 88, who died Friday morning in Cumberland township from a complication of diseases, were held Sunday afternoon from the Allison funeral home, Fairfield, conducted by the Rev. John McCune. Interment in Union cemetery, Fairfield.

The pallbearers were Harry Myers, John O. Musselman, Frank Sanders, Harry Brown, Arthur Moore and Frank Moore.

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 17 (AP)—British Second Army troops drove today into the outskirts of Evreux, key to the high ground between the Odon and the Orne rivers, after the tank supported troops had stormed into the village of Noyers.

The British attack flamed along a nine-mile line south of Caen, and included a four-mile spearhead to the southwest, bringing the troops to the edge of Evreux, 7½ miles southwest of Caen.

Severe Battle Is Expected

Caught off balance by the British thrust which began Saturday night, Marshal Erwin Rommel threw five divisions into the battle and one of the biggest contests since the invasion of Normandy promised to develop as Gen. Miles C. Dempsey sought to broaden his springboard salient for a major offensive out of the Normandy peninsula.

To the west, American troops attacked St. Lo for the seventh straight day, groping through early morning mists in a siege operation which field dispatches said was grinding down diminishing German resistance. The Americans pushed forward about 400 yards and stood within 1¼ miles of the town on both the east and northwest.

On the western end of the Normandy front, meanwhile, American patrols crossed the Ay river and were closing in on both sides of Lessay, which apparently was theirs for the taking as the opposition there was only moderate. A front dispatch said Yank patrols entered the northern side of Lessay, the coastal hinge of the Germans' defense line, yesterday.

The Supreme command announced the Allies had made gains in five sectors—three on the American and two on the British side of the line.

Completes Course At Gunnery School

Pfc. Richard A. Sires nephew of Leo S. Thomas, 261 Baltimore street, was "graduated" last week from the Army Air Forces Flexible Gunnery school, Laredo, Texas, a member of the AAF Training Command. He is now qualified to take his place as a member of a bomber combat crew.

Along with his diploma, he received a pair of Aerial Gunner's silver wings and a promotion in grade at brief graduation exercises held there.

He was prepared for his place in America's stepped-up offensive by a comprehensive six weeks' course in every phase of aerial gunnery warfare. Besides learning to fire every type weapon from camera guns to the deadly caliber .50 Browning's, he studied turret manipulation, aircraft identification, stripping and reassembling of machine guns while blindfolded. He climaxed the course by air firing on loved targets.

Search For Shells Ends In "Rumpus" And Fines For Pair

Louis and William Metz, Orrtanna R. D., were arrested Saturday night on disorderly conduct charges laid after they allegedly had created a disturbance in a local store when the manager of the establishment refused to sell them shotgun shells.

The two men had entered the store and asked for shells. As one was carrying a box of shells under his arm, the manager told them he had no shells, it was learned today. The pair started a "rumpus" and fought with police.

Taken before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Louis Metz paid a fine of $3 and costs after pleading guilty to the charge. William Metz, who had disappeared before the officers arrived later walked into Justice Snyder's office and announced that he would "take over" from here. He was "taken over" instead and placed in jail in default of a $10 fine and costs. He later paid the fine and costs and was released later Saturday night.

REVOKE ORDER

WOMAN, 81, DIES OF BROKEN NECK IN FALL SUNDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Margaret (Heintzelman) Dittenhafer, 81, was found dead shortly before noon Sunday at the foot of a flight of stairs at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Beamer, Aspers R. D., when members of the family returned from church.

A broken neck caused death and apparently the injury was suffered when the aged woman, who was blind, fell down a flight of stairs leading from the first floor to the second floor of the home. The body was discovered by a ten-year-old grandson, Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, investigated.

Mrs. Dittenhafer had resided at the Beamer home for the last four years. Her husband, James Dittenhafer, died in 1941. The deceased was a native of Franklin county, but had spent most of her life in Adams and Cumberland counties. She was a daughter of the late Andrew and Mary (Deardorff) Heintzelman and was a member of the Goodyear Lutheran church.

Services Wednesday
Surviving are these children: Howard O. Dittenhafer, Philadelphia; Mrs. Beamer, with whom she resided; Mrs. Victor Kump, Boyertown R. D.; Mrs. Oscar Starner, Gardners R. 2; David R. Highspire, and James O. Chevy Chase, Maryland. There are 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. These brothers and sisters also survive: Edward and Harry Heintzelman, both of Gettysburg R. 2; Mrs. Effie Willet, Hanover, and Mrs. Meade Hamilton, Altoona.

Funeral services from the Routsong-Dugan funeral home in Bendersville, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, with the Rev. George W. Harrison, Bendersville Methodist pastor, officiating. Interment in Fiohr's church cemetery.

HOLY NAME UNIT MEETS SUNDAY AT NEW OXFORD

Plans for resumption of quarterly meetings and for a joint Holy Hour to be held some time in the near future were discussed Sunday afternoon at a meeting of the Southern Regional Holy Name society at New Oxford.

The session was the first in two years for the organization which includes all Holy Name societies in York, Adams and Franklin counties, with intervening meetings called off because of the gasoline and other restrictions caused by the war. Officers of the organization were asked to set the date and make arrangements for the Holy Hour to be held somewhere in the three counties for the Holy Name members of all Catholic churches in the section.

13 Parishes Represented
The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, pastor of the McSherrystown Catholic church, was one of the speakers at the session having as his topic, "Prayer," which he termed one of the most potent forces in man's life. Other speakers included the Rev. W. J. Weaver, Dallastown, Harrisburg diocese Holy Name director; the Rev. William J. Burke, Abbottstown; the Rev. Joseph Gotwalt, Fairfield and the Rev. Mark P. McElwee, Hanover.

Thirteen parishes were represented by the 80 members attending the sessions in Immaculate Conception hall at New Oxford. Ryland Robinson, president of the Immaculate Conception parish Holy Name society, welcomed the group and Albert Weaver, McSherrystown, president of the region, presided at the session.

The next meeting of the group will be held the second Sunday in October at St. Vincent's Catholic church, Hanover.

$550 Damage In Car-Truck Crash

Damage estimated at about $550 resulted when a car and a truck sideswiped Saturday morning about 3:30 o'clock, two and a half miles west of Hanover on the Gettysburg road. Pvt. Harold Sheads of the Gettysburg substation of the state police investigated.

The officer reported that an east-bound car operated by Pius T. Moore, Hanover R. 4, and a west-bound truck driven by Clyde B. McCormick, Big Poole, Md., collided near the center of the highway. The impact knocked the rear wheels out from under the truck which struck a guardrail.

No one was injured and no charges were brought. Damage totaled about $550. The officer estimated.

Wounded Soldier In U. S. Hospital

Sergeant Roy K. Mickley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickley, Orrtanna, R. 1, torpedoes twice off Casablanca in November, 1942, and seriously wounded in the invasion of France, has arrived in this country for medical treatment.

Sergeant Mickley telephoned his parents from New York on Saturday advising them that he had just arrived from England by plane and that he was being sent to the Valley Forge Memorial hospital where he will undergo an operation on his leg.

The Orrtanna soldier suffered shrapnel wounds in the shoulder, leg and right thumb during the invasion of France. He was removed to a hospital in England and later returned to the states by airplane.

In his telephone conversation on Saturday from New York he told his parents that he was "feeling fine" but gave no details of his wounding, the nature of his injuries or other information.

He was torpedoes out of two ships during the invasion of Casablanca within a 22-hour period. The second rescue ship took him to the states.

Mickley has crossed the Atlantic five times.

The only way to secure much of the paper is by reconvertng old paper into new pulp. Lumber is one of the most critical of war materials and is needed for use in so many things that little of it can be used to make paper. It would seem unnecessary that the needs of lumber in other industries should not be met because some of the lumber is going to make paper when that paper could be made from scrap which everyone has in his home and which can be turned in for salvage so easily."

"Not only the newspapers and magazines are needed. But also the paper in the waste baskets of the town. If everyone merely took the paper from his wastebasket for one week, more paper would be supplied than we have received in any scrap drive so far."

"Certainly everyone is in back of the war effort sufficiently to bundle what paper is around the home and place it on the sidewalks Thursday so that we can pick it up and deliver it to a junk dealer who will send it immediately to the nearest paper mill to be converted into articles of war."

Glenn E. Sell Gets Promotion To Cpl.

(Special To The Times)
Air Transport Command Base, India (By Mail)—Glenn E. Sell has been promoted from Pfc. to corporal, it has been announced here by his commanding officer.

Cpl. Sell has been in the China-Burma-India theater since August, 1943, serving with the India-China wing of the Air Transport Command. This is the Army Air forces unit charged with maintaining the famed aerial supply route from India to China over the "Hump" of the Himalaya Mountains in northern Burma.

In civilian life Cpl. Sell was employed in a Gettysburg furniture factory. He is classified as an army medical technician. His wife, during his service overseas, is making her home in Biglerville.

HELD AS VAGRANTS

Richard Gray, Winter Haven, Fla., and John Singleton, Savannah, Ga., were charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore with being vagrants. The charges were laid Saturday by Borough Officer Clark W. Staley. The men were confined today to the county jail.

C. L. MEHRING, LITTLESTOWN, DIES ON SUNDAY

Clinton L. Mehring, prominent Littlestown merchant, died Sunday morning at 10:40 o'clock at his home on East King street after an illness of a year. He would have been 69 years old on August 16.

Active for many years in civic affairs, Mr. Mehring became ill about a year ago.

He was a son of the late Solomon S. Mehring and Isabelle (Sell) Mehring. He married the former Miss Beulah R. Gitt, sister of Dr. Chester Gitt, Gettysburg, on April 9, 1902.

The deceased was in the hardware business for 45 years. For thirty years he was a partner in the firm of Basehor and Mehring and for the past 15 years was head of the C. L. Mehring company.

Active In Town
Mr. Mehring was a member of the Littlestown town council for 16 years and was president for two terms. He was a member of the Alpha fire company, No. 1, of Littlestown and the Littlestown fish and game commission. He was active in the banking business for 20 years and helped to organize the Littlestown State Bank and was a former President of the old Littlestown Savings institution. He was also a member of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Mt. Carmel Cemetery association. He was also a director of other organizations.

Fraternally Mr. Mehring was a member of Patmos Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, No. 348, of Hanover, and the Hanover Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons. He was a member of the Gettysburg Commandery, Knights Templar and the I. O. O. F. Lodge of Littlestown and a charter member of the Littlestown Rotary club. Mr. Mehring had a perfect attendance record in the Rotary club for 11 years.

Funeral Wednesday
He was a lifelong member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, served as

Here And There News Collected At Random

Women of Adams County can "mine" tin, in their own kitchens sufficient for 133 Flying Fortresses this year.

This figure was announced by J. A. Stewart, vice-president of the American Can company, on the basis of canned foods consumed by civilians in the county last year. On the basis of last year's consumption, civilians will open 3,194,232 cans of food this year, Mr. Stewart said. According to a table recently issued by the government 24,000 tin cans provide tin sufficient for one Flying Fortress.

The government has issued another urgent appeal for waste paper.

This is an all-important salvage material... and everyone can help in this effort. Don't throw away or burn paper. Save every scrap. Try to save at least one bundle a week. The armed forces need mountains of waste paper.

Business firms, manufacturers and other industries are urged to dig out their old files... letters not directly contractual, old correspondence, old records, old bookkeeping books, old general ledgers, cash books, cancelled checks, invoices, paid bills and other old paper that has no direct usefulness... all of this paper can be used to protect ammunition, foods, medicines, life-saving blood plasma, etc.

Salvage every piece of waste paper you can. Every bit helps.

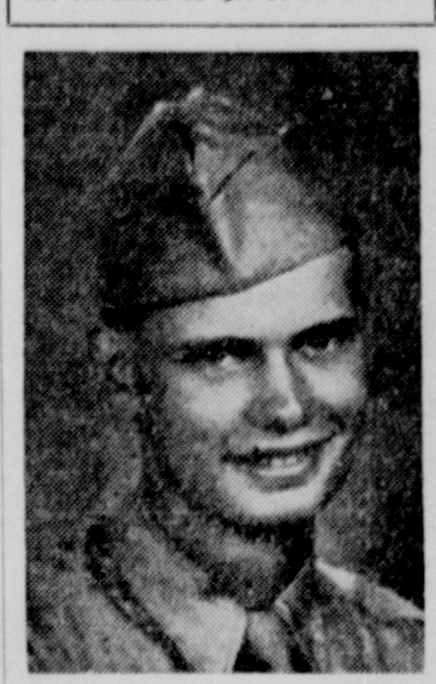

Pennsylvania early 1944-crop potatoes, mostly of the Cobbler variety, were placed under ceiling by OPA today. Margins for various channels of distribution are similar to those now in effect, and the only change is in the base price at the source of production. The f.o.b. shipping point price for a 100-pound unit of U. S. No. 1 potatoes is $2.80. This reflects a retail ceiling of 25 cents for a 5-pound unit of sale, effective July 22.

Private Robert Bixler, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Blaine E. Bixler, of Littlestown, writes the following from France: "Some time ago I wrote you a letter from England. Now I'm writing a few lines from sunny France. As you know the Allies have been here nearly a month now and other things beside the fighting and military needs are beginning to get organized. We've been getting cigarettes and candy and other

Wounded

Pvt. Dale Edward "Ted" Deardorff, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric R. Deardorff, Carlisle street, who was wounded in action in Normandy, is now a patient in an English hospital. He served with the Ninth Division, among the first to take part in the invasion of the continent.

URGE COUNTIANS TO PURCHASE 'E' BONDS IN DRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. Adams County were asked today by the county War Finance committee to dig a little deeper into their pockets so that the county may reach its quota of "E" bond sales before the end of this month.

Meeting Saturday afternoon at the First National bank building, chairmen of the various county committees of the War Finance committee paid high tribute to the corporations and business interests of the county and those with representatives in the county whose purchases put the county over the top in the Fifth War Loan drive.

At the same time the chairmen viewed with some alarm the failure of the county to meet its "E" bond quota. Individuals, who are scheduled to buy $650,000 worth of "E" bonds according to the quota set for the county, are approximately $300,000 behind in their purchases so far and every effort is being made to reach the goal by the end of the current month.

"E" Bonds' Importance

The "E" bond campaign is possibly the most important part of the current War Bond campaign, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman, pointed out. While the purchases of bonds by the corporations and business places supplied the immediate need of the nation for money with which to buy the necessities for the men and women in the armed forces, the long-range

PITCHES HAY ON 88TH BIRTHDAY

Crist Shank, Biglerville R. 1, spent his eighty-eighth birthday anniversary today—as he has spent many other birthdays—pitching hay. He worked along with other harvest hands today on the farm of A. H. Friedline, Biglerville R. D., near Benders church, just as he did on Saturday and as he expects to do on Tuesday and later in the week, weather permitting.

Mr. Shank, who has engaged in farming and truck gardening all of his life, resides between Biglerville and Arendtsville and frequently walks two miles to Biglerville to shop or transact other business. For many years he attended Farmers Market here.

He was born and reared in Adams county and is a lifelong member of the Mummasburg Mennonite church.

On Saturday after Mr. Shank had spent the day pitching hay in the fields and working in the mow while the wagons were unloaded, he was guest of honor at a birthday dinner at the Friedline home. His wife was there as were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shank, and their son, Nelson, Jr., and the members of the Friedline family.

British Launch Offensive South Of Caen; Reds Take Grodno; Advance In Italy

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, July 17 (AP)—American troops climbed in relentlessly on Livorno today after capturing the dominating height of Monte Maggiore and pushing on up the Italian west coast to the edge of Montenero, only four miles from the heart of the big port.

Simultaneously other American forces slammed forward in the Era valley to within five and one-half miles of the Arno river in a broad flanking movement well east of Livorno and Pisa.

The newest gains brought the Fifth army up against strong German defensive positions and fierce fighting raged all along the front, with the enemy launching sharp counterattacks.

French Hold Gains

An official announcement said French troops of the Fifth army, which were credited with capturing Poggibonsi over the week-end, had driven back one heavy counter-attack and were holding to their positions.

The heaviest German counter-thrust came in the Era valley at Campannoli, the point of the deepest American penetration. Under cover of night the Nazis struck with a considerable force, rolling the Doughboys back a "few hundred yards," a spokesman said.

Later in the night the Americans lashed out again with equal fury and retook the lost ground.

German tanks which had been withdrawn from active fighting in many sectors recently were thrown back into this battle.

Take Other Towns

Deep inland Lorenzana, 11 miles from the coast, fell to other Fifth army troops who pushed on within a half mile of Crispina, which is 12 miles east and a little north of Livorno. Ussigliano, 14 miles due east of Livorno, was taken. It was found heavily mined and booby-trapped.

On the Eighth army front, German defense difficulties grew and losses mounted with the British capture of the key communications center of Arezzo.

By yesterday afternoon Lt. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's forward elements were three miles north and west of the town, but were meeting some opposition.

Divide Offices Of Local Committee

The local committee on colored church work met at the home of Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, Sunday night, with Dr. Dwight F. Putman, chairman, presiding. A budget was adopted and plans for the ensuing year decided upon.

At the request of Mrs. Buehler, who has been secretary-treasurer of the group since it was organized in 1937, the office was divided. The Rev. Robert M. Hunt was elected treasurer and Dr. Putman and Mrs. Buehler were retained as chairman and secretary, respectively.

In addition to the above the following members were present: Mrs. Bettie K. Rosenstengel, the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, the Rev. Howard S. Fox, T. J. Weinbrenner, the Rev. Charles K. Gibson and John H. Knickerbocker. The committee will meet again in the fall.

PEACH PRICES "CONTROLLED"

Fresh peaches are now under price control at all levels of distribution from the packing house door to the consumer's dining table, the OPA has announced. Ceiling prices at retail become effective July 22.

The community ceiling price for best quality locally-produced peaches has been set at 14 1/2 cents per pound. The producer's ceiling price for peaches packed and graded in standard bushel baskets is $3.66 at the packing house door or shipping point rail platform. If packed in half-bushel baskets, the f.o.b. shipping point ceiling price is $1.99. The weight of a standard bushel of peaches produced in Pennsylvania is 48 pounds.

The new regulation covering the item of fresh peaches is very explicit in classification of containers, marking requirements, and definitions of the various types of distributive agents concerned with the sales of peaches. It also lists very complete tables of mark-ups for all types of sales.

The average cost of a bushel of Pennsylvania peaches delivered to the premises of a retailer will not be over $4.99.

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 17 (AP)—British Second Army troops drove today into the outskirts of Evreux, key to the high ground between the Odon and the Orne rivers, after the tank supported troops had stormed into the village of Noyers.

The British attack flamed along a nine-mile line south of Caen, and included a four-mile spearhead to the southwest, bringing the troops to the edge of Evreux, 7 1/2 miles southwest of Caen.

Severe Battle Is Expected

Caught off balance by the British thrust which began Saturday night, Marshal Erwin Rommel threw five divisions into the battle and one of the biggest contests since the invasion of Normandy promised to develop as Gen. Miles C. Dempsey sought to broaden his springboard salient for a major offensive out of the Normandy peninsula.

To the west, American troops attacked St. Lo for the seventh straight day, groping through early morning mists in a siege operation which field dispatches said was grinding down diminishing German resistance. The Americans pushed forward about 400 yards and stood within 1 1/4 miles of the town on both the east and northwest.

On the western end of the Normandy front, meanwhile, American patrols crossed the Ay river and were closing in on both sides of Lessay, which apparently was theirs for the taking as the opposition there was only moderate. A front dispatch said Yank patrols entered the northern side of Lessay, the coastal hinge of the Germans' defense line, yesterday.

The Supreme command announced the Allies had made gains in five sectors—three on the American and two on the British side of the line.

The brightest spot in the fighting outlook was the first good flying days in weeks, sending thousands of bombers and fighters pouring across the channel. Allied airmen had their greatest chance since D-day to smash at Rommel's strength.

St. Lo Bristles

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's push west of the Vire river turned south with deadly seriousness as the Yanks captured the village of Remilly-Sur-Lozon seven miles east of Periers and then drove on toward the road junction of Le Mesnil Vigot on the highway between Periers and St. Lo.

American patrols penetrated into St. Lo and found it heavily defended. Supreme headquarters announced tonight.

On both sides of St. Lo, where the Germans were fighting with the greatest fierceness, the Americans pushed forward about 400 yards to within 1 1/4 miles of the town on both the east and northwest.

The heaviest fighting on the whole front raged in the green valley between the Odon and Orne, where the British and Canadians had pushed forward yesterday in a sharp offensive which took Esquay, Gavrus, Bougy and Bretteville. Rommel launched counter-attacks and late field dispatches said the Allies had been driven from Esquay, which now is in no man's land.

The American First army reported it was regrouping in all sectors except that of St. Lo, and that its advance was likely to be slowed for a few days.

R. C. To Collect Furs For Seamen

The Adams county Red Cross office today announced that it has become a collecting agency for the Fur Vest Project, New York, which has been created to make fur vests for merchant seamen for use while on the high seas.

Workers of the fur industry make the vests from old furs which are no longer of use to their owners and have been donated through the Red Cross or other agencies for the work. The vests are made without cost for the merchant seamen with the fur industry workers making them voluntarily in their spare time.

Persons in Adams county who have old furs they wish to donate can bring them to the Red Cross office and they will be forwarded, it was stated.

By HENRY P. CASSIDY

Moscow, July 17 (AP)—Red Army troops pushed forward today along a broad front stretching from the Baltics to the Pripyat marshes after capturing the German-held fortress city of Grodno, described by Premier Stalin as "covering the approach to East Prussia."

Grodno, which the Germans announced earlier they had evacuated is only 45 miles from the East Prussian border. With its fall the Germans have no natural barrier between them and their homeland, to which it appeared the fighting soon would be carried.

Take 40 Positions

The Germans fell back at Grodno to the west bank of the Niemen river, which parallels the East Prussian border in that sector. Field dispatches said a new Russian crossing of the Niemen was made during the Grodno battle. The river has been crossed by the Russians farther north in the Alytus sector, where the Red Army, pushing west of Wilno, has driven within 50 miles of East Prussia.

The Russians have consolidated a bridgehead on the west bank of the Niemen, taking more than 40 positions across the stream in the Alytus sector, front dispatches said.

(Martin Hallensleben, military expert for the German news agency, DNB, suggested in a Berlin broadcast that the Red Army might be entering a trap in its lightning offensive threatened to isolate German troops in the Baltic.

Take Old Capital

(Hallensleben, admitting it was poor strategy to hold in the north while giving up "comparatively extensive areas" in the middle of the line, asserted "there will be reasons for allowing the Russians to come so close." It will be safe to count on a number of surprises.)

The Moscow communique disclosed that Russian troops were within 10 miles of Kaunas (old capital of Lithuania) with the capture of Dorosunishki on the southeast. It reported the capture of more than 340 cities and towns extending from the eastern border of Latvia southwest through the big bulge into Lithuania, through Grodno and to the eastern approaches of Bialystok and Brest Litovsk.

Cite Nazi Losses

The Russians captured Mstibov, 45 miles east of Bialystok, bastion on the Wilno-Warsaw railroad line, and a series of towns to the northeast.

Pushing towards Brest Litovsk, Red Army troops captured Berez-Kartushkaya, 80 miles northeast, and were about the same distance away in a push westward along the railroad from Pinsk.

(A special broadcast by the Moscow radio heard in London told the Germans "the game is up." It said 100,000 Germans were taken prisoner and 50 divisions, possibly 500,000 men, were annihilated on the eastern front.)

Search For Shells Ends In "Rumpus" And Fines For Pair

Louis and William Metz, Orrtanna R. D., were arrested Saturday night on disorderly conduct charges laid after they allegedly had created a disturbance in a local store when the manager of the establishment refused to sell them shotgun shells.

The two men had entered the store and asked for shells. As one was carrying a box of shells under his arm, the manager told them he had no shells, it was learned today. The pair started a "rumpus" and borough police were called.

Taken before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Louis Metz paid a fine of $3 and costs after pleading guilty to the charge. William Metz, who had disappeared before the officers arrived later walked into Justice Snyder's office and announced that he would "take over" instead and placed in jail in default of a $10 fine and costs. He later paid the fine and costs and was released later Saturday night.

REVOKE ORDER

A petition of Eva Kile, Baltimore street, asking that the support order of $5 a week placed against her husband May 17, 1943, by the county court on a desertion and non-support charge be revoked, was granted by the county court Saturday.

INTENSIFICATION OF EUROPEAN WAR EXPECTED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(Associated Press War Analyst)

Heavy intensification of the war in the European theater may be expected from now on since there are only about three months of prime fighting weather left to the Allies before the autumn rains come to the aid of the Hitlerites and on that basis the possibility of an early knock-out of Germany depends on what happens in the next dozen weeks or so.

A happy sign of Allied determination to make hay while the sun shines is seen in today's report of General Montgomery's attack in the Caen sector to secure a more favorable position for a major offensive. In other words the big battle for which we have been waiting seems to be boiling up at long last. This decisive engagement must be fought and won by the Allies before they can break out of the peninsula into the wide open spaces which will give access to Paris and Berlin.

Preliminary at Caen

Things have been moving slowly for the United Nations in Normandy. There have been several reasons for this—vile weather, heavy Nazi resistance, and Montgomery's unwillingness to sacrifice the lives of Allied troops unnecessarily by making a major attack before he was fully equipped. The general is daring but not foolhardy, and his great successes give confidence in his judgment. Apparently he finally is about set for the big show.

The fresh battle at Caen, which is a preliminary to the all-out drive, is of great importance. This ancient inland port and military stronghold is the pivot on which the final engagement of the peninsula will turn. Once Montgomery has maneuvered his forces into a favorable position he will launch his big offensive. If his old opponent of the African desert, Nazi Field Marshal Rommel, doesn't open the attack first.

The coming battle of Normandy will be a bloody affair because of its vast importance. Upon it depends whether the Allied invasion will be stalled, thereby giving Hitler a new lease of life, or whether we shall break through to the hinterland quickly. Hitler's hope is slim, not that the Allies are well established on the peninsula, but he is bound to fling everything he can into this decisive engagement. No Eastern Front! Now.

As a matter of fact, the Fuehrer's new scheme of making France the decisive theater seems to be on the cards already. This strategy projects the withdrawal of strength from the Russian front temporarily in an effort to achieve a decisive victory over the western Allies, after which he would jump back to the east to stand off the Russians. However, the Red armies are smashing through his lines so fast that his strategy of despair can't work. Actually there no longer is a "front" in the east in the accepted sense of the term. The onrushing Reds have torn it to shreds and the whole situation is as fluid as water. Thus Hitler is juggling with dynamite when he withdraws any resources from the east for use against the western Allies.

The German peril has been multiplied by the Russian capture of the strategic city of Grodno. This is one of the doors to east Prussia, which the Mitsoviets are approaching with amazing speed. The way things are moving the Red armies will be on German soil in the immediate future.

CONVICT STABS GUARD; SUICIDES

Philadelphia, July 17 (AP)—A convict serving a term for murder hacked and critically wounded a guard with a home-made hatchet and then killed himself with a home-made stiletto in Eastern state penitentiary today.

Warden Herbert Smith said the convict apparently was outside his cell, apparently "about to make a long-planned break."

Smith identified the convict as Steven Saunders, 27, negro, who was not known to have a home address or relatives.

The guard was Edwin Lichtenberger, 35, veteran of 12 years' service and the father of two children. He is in the prison dispensary with two deep forehead gashes. Doctors said he may not live.

FSA Gives Report For Three Counties

Reports for the past fiscal year from the local Farm Security Administration, comprising York, Adams and Dauphin counties, compared favorably with the reports made by FSA directors from 11 northeastern states at a two-day conference held at Upper Darby.

Loans made to the local branch of the FSA to farmers in the three counties numbered 26 and amounted to $22,302 while the amount of money collected from loans totaled $58,189, according to a report from Clarence Myers, local director. He added that 41 cases paid their loans in full during the past year.

At the conference Regional Director J. H. Wood announced to the state directors representing states from Maine to Maryland that the FSA had collected $800,000 more from the farmers on loans than had been lent to the farmers during the fiscal year in the 11 states.

INTENSIFICATION OF EUROPEAN WAR EXPECTED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

Heavy intensification of the war in the European theater may be expected from now on since there are only about three months of prime fighting weather left to the Allies before the autumn rains come to the aid of the Hitlerites, and on that basis the possibility of an early knock-out of Germany depends on what happens in the next dozen weeks or so.

A happy sign of Allied determination to make hay while the sun shines is seen in today's report of General Montgomery's attack in the Caen sector to secure a more favorable position for a major offensive. In other words the big battle for which we have been waiting seems to be boiling up at long last. This decisive engagement must be fought and won by the Allies before they can break out of the peninsula into the wide open spaces which will give access to Paris—and Berlin.

Preliminary at Caen

Things have been moving slowly for the United Nations in Normandy. There have been several reasons for this—vile weather, heavy Nazi resistance, and Montgomery's unwillingness to sacrifice the lives of Allied troops unnecessarily by making a major attack before he was fully equipped. The general is daring but not foolhardy, and his great successes give confidence in his judgment. Apparently he finally is about set for the big show.

The fresh battle at Caen, which is a preliminary to the all-out drive, is of great importance. This ancient inland port and military stronghold is the pivot on which the final engagement of the peninsula will turn. Once Montgomery has maneuvered his forces into a favorable position he will launch his big offensive. If his old opponent of the African desert, Nazi Field Marshal Rommel, doesn't open the attack first.

The coming battle of Normandy will be a bloody affair because of its vast importance. Upon it depends whether the Allied invasion will be stalled, thereby giving Hitler a new lease of life, or whether we shall break through to the hinterland quickly. Hitler's hope is slim, not that the Allies are well established on the peninsula, but he is bound to fling everything he can into this decisive engagement.

No Eastern "Front" Now

As a matter of fact, the Fuehrer's new scheme of making France the decisive theater seems to be on the rocks already. This strategy projects the withdrawal of strength from the Russian front temporarily in an effort to achieve a decisive victory over the western Allies, after which he would jump back to the east to stand off the Russians.

However, the Red armies are smashing through his lines so fast that his strategy of despair can't work. Actually there no longer is a "front" in the east in the accepted sense of the term. The onrushing Reds have torn it to shreds and the whole situation is as fluid as water. Thus Hitler is juggling with dynamite when he withdraws any resources from the east for use against the western Allies.

The German peril has been multiplied by the Russian capture of the strategic city of Grodno. This is one of the doors to east Prussia, which the Muscovites are approaching with amazing speed. The way things are moving the Red armies will be on German soil in the immediate future.

bombs, was 80 per cent destroyed. The travelers said the huge factory, a longtime producer of tanks and motor cars for the German Army, was now thought to be concentrating on jet propulsion engines.

Bretton Woods, N. H., July 17 (AP)—The United Nations monetary conference today was extended three days beyond its originally scheduled closing date to permit the vast amount of technical work to be completed without pressure.

An official statement emphasized that the conference would reach agreement "on all matters of substance" by Wednesday, the closing date first fixed, but the final plenary session was moved back to Saturday.

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—A telephone appeal to President Roosevelt to back up personally a letter he has addressed to the Democratic convention expressing preference for Vice President Henry A. Wallace as his running mate was under consideration today by Wallace strategists.

Somerset, Pa., July 17 (AP)—James Henry Kent, 41, testified at a habeas corpus hearing in county court today that his sister, Mrs. Irene Kent Colosimo, 27, of Riverside, had admitted to him she shot and killed George Kern, 60, Johnstown dental technician, last December.

Blockville, N. Y., July 17 (AP)—Five of 12 Army fliers were killed and three others injured here Saturday in the crash of a four-motored Army bomber. Three others suffered minor hurts and a 12th escaped unharmed.

Associated Press War Editor Adm. Shigetaro Shimada has resigned as Japan's navy minister Tokyo announced today, giving a hint of the stresses at play in the Japanese government since American conquest of Saipan.

Shimada, navy minister since November, 1941—a month before Pearl Harbor—gave way to relatively unknown Adm. Naokuni Nomura, who comes into a Tojo cabinet facing an unrelenting, 12-day U.S. fleet attack on Guam and setbacks on every other war front save China.

Chungking, July 17 (AP)—More than 8,000 square miles of the world's toughest fighting country have been wrested from the Japanese by Gen. Wei Li-Huang's American-trained and equipped Chinese troops since the launching of the offensive west of the Salween river May 11, designed to join Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's forces in Burma and reopen an overland supply route to blockaded China.

Chungking, July 17 (AP)—The Chinese command, reporting gains in north Burma at the long-besieged base of Myit-kyina, asserted today:

"The skin of many of the Japanese troops is white from being underground so long without proper diet."

The statement was credited to an eye-witness. The state-

Cpl. John William Roth, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Roth, South Stratton street, is "somewhere in France" according to word received by his parents here.

A crab feed for members of the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks will be held on the lot at the rear of the lodge home on York street, Wednesday evening, starting at 6 o'clock.

luxuries for some time now. Of course we're eating C. and K. rations which are surprisingly good.

"Now, I'll give you a little information about France itself. The country is pretty well beat up from the fighting but the people nevertheless seem happy and give the Yanks a hearty welcome. A lot of the homes and towns are nearly destroyed by shells and bombs but they survive despite all the hardships. I want you to know I really enjoyed your paper while I received it in the states and will try to make arrangements to have it sent to me here in France."

London, July 17 (AP)—Up to 750 U.S. heavy bombers attacked a dozen river bridges leading to the Normandy front, the Belfort railroad yards in eastern France and a flying bomb supply dump near Rheims today in one of the largest scale support attacks by four-engined aircraft during the invasion.

Up to 500 fighters escorted the four-engined bombers, flying Fortresses and Liberators. Radio Berlin said the Reich itself was under attack for the fifth time in a week. It was one of the rare days since invasion that clear skies had permitted full use of overpowering Allied air power.

American Liberators from Italy bombed three bridges and a railroad in southern France today.

The army of Carthage, from 264-202 B.C., was made up entirely of soldiers of fortune.

CORRECTION
Carl Richard Knox, 253 Baltimore street, was recently promoted to third class petty officer in England instead of to seaman first class as previously reported.

CONVICT STABS GUARD; SUICIDES

Philadelphia, July 17 (AP)—A convict serving a term for murder hacked and critically wounded a guard with a home-made hatchet and then killed himself with a home-made stiletto in Eastern state penitentiary today.

Warden Herbert Smith said the convict apparently was outside his cell, apparently "about to make a long-planned break."

Smith identified the convict as Steven Saunders, 27, negro, who was not known to have a home address or relatives.

The guard was Edwin Lichtenberger, 35, veteran of 12 years' service and the father of two children. He is in the prison dispensary with two deep forehead gashes. Doctors said he may not live.

More! More! MORE MEN AND MATERIALS!

THE Fifth War Bond Drive is over—but the Invasion is not!

Actually, the war right now is at its most critical stage—which is just why our men need your support as never before, why they need you to help pay for the mass of materials of all kinds that will bring crushing defeat to our enemies that much sooner!

Of course, you have just done your part in the Fifth War Loan Drive—but they have done theirs in many a grim, bloody battle and they aren't resting on what they've done before! They are carrying the fight to the enemy wherever they can reach him, every day—and your dollars are needed every day, too! Surely you won't let up now—when the chips are down!

An Evening Thought
When men speak ill of thee, so live that nobody will believe them.—Plato.

Just Folks
BOMBER TWENTY-NINE
Did you know it, little lady, as you sprayed that bit with oil
And you searched for every blemish as your daily round of toil
That the task which you were doing was a part of the design
Of that glorious piece of aircraft known as "Bomber Twenty-Nine?"

Did you know it, Silver Temples, as you stood from day to day,
Sanding every bit of roughness from that metal tube away,
You were really making something, when it traveled from the line,
That would fit man's highest airship, known as "Bomber Twenty-nine?"

You may not remember, lady, that beside you once I stood
And watched you weld a gadget and remarked your work was good.
Now I wonder, did you know it, as you heard those words of mine,
You were making something vital to that "Bomber Twenty-Nine?"

Oh, they never tell their secrets! Even God won't tell us see
Through the glory of His purpose what He plans for you and me.
But it must be satisfying, and I'm sure your eyes must shine,
Now to learn that you've been making parts for "Bomber Twenty-Nine."

Today's Talk
ALL ARE DEBTORS
We owe something to all the world. We are debtors to all nations and all nationalities. Especially are we debtors to the ancient Greeks. Their teachers and philosophers are among the world's greatest. Perhaps they in turn, borrowed from the Chinese, who have so enriched human thought.

In reading fragments from the writings of Epictetus, I came across the incident where Lucurgus the Lacedaemonian delivers back to the people a man who had blinded him in one eye, and who was delivered to him for judgment. In the interval he had instructed him, refused to punish him, then brought him back into the theater before the Lacedaemonians, who were struck with admiration. Said Lucurgus: "I received this person from you, dangerous and violent, and I restore him to you gentle and a good citizen."

When I read this my thoughts went out to that unhappy country of Greece, to whom we owe so much for its people's wise sayings and culture, so very long ago demonstrated as high and noble. I thought of Plato, Socrates, Xenophon and others. I thought of Epictetus and his last ditch defense of Thermopylae against Xerxes. A. D. 49, 480 B.C. The last of the "Overturner," the Hellenic liberator, made the words of Epictetus a favorite maxim.

Byron, the English poet, gave his services to the Greeks in one of their struggles and became one of their heroes. The grave of Rupert Brooke is located near the shores of Greece. The Greek's recent defense of their country has become an epic. May God grant that again they may know the freedom for which their people have so long struggled.

I think it was the Apostle Paul who once stated: "I will do to the Greeks and the Beroians, to the wise and the foolish, as I have always to the ignorant and the simple." To such are we all, debtors, our eternal gratitude. To God for our parents, to our friends and loved ones, and to the world, we owe more than we shall ever be able to repay.

Just Folks

BOMBER TWENTY-NINE

Did you know it, little lady, as you sprayed that bit with oil
And you searched for every blemish as your daily round of toil.
That the task which you were doing was a part of the design
Of that glorious piece of aircraft known as "Bomber Twenty-Nine"?

Did you know it, Silver Temples, as you stood from day to day,
Sanding every bit of roughness from that metal tube away.
You were really making something, when it traveled from the line.
That would fit man's highest airship, known as "Bomber Twenty-nine"?

You may not remember, lady, that beside you once I stood
And watched you weld a gadget and remarked your work was good.
Now I wonder, did you know it, as you heard those words of mine,
You were making something vital to that "Bomber Twenty-Nine"?

Oh, they never tell their secrets! Even God won't let us see
Through the glory of His purpose what He plans for you and me.
But it must be satisfying, and I'm sure your eyes must shine,
Now to learn that you've been making parts for "Bomber Twenty-Nine."

Today's Talk
ALL ARE DEBTORS
We owe something to all the world. We are debtors to all nations and all nationalities. Especially are we debtors to the ancient Greeks. Their teachers and philosophers are among the world's greatest. Perhaps they in turn, borrowed from the Chinese, who have so enriched human thought.

In reading fragments from the writings of Epictetus, I came across the incident where Lycurgus the Lacedaemonian delivers back to the people a man who had blinded him in one eye, and who was delivered to him for judgment. In the interval he had instructed him, refused to punish him, then brought him back into the theater before the Lacedaemonians, who were struck with admiration. Said Lycurgus: "I received this person from you, dangerous and violent, and I restore him to you gentle and a good citizen."

When I read this my thoughts went out to that unhappy country of Greece, to whom we owe so much for its people's wise sayings and culture, so very long ago demonstrated as high and noble. I thought of Plato, Socrates, Xenophon and others. I thought of Leonidas and his last ditch defense of Thermopylae against Xerxes, August 7-9, 480 B.C. Toussaint l'Ouverture, the Haitian liberator, made the works of Epictetus a favorite manual.

Byron, the English poet, gave his services to the Greeks in one of their struggles, and became one of their heroes. The grave of Rupert Brooke is located near the shores of Greece. The Greeks' recent defense of their country has become an epic. May God grant that, again they may know the freedom for which their people have so long struggled!

I think it was the Apostle Paul who once stated: "I am debtor both to the Greeks and the Barbarians, to the wise and the unwise."
To whom are we not debtors, if we have absorbed truth, knowledge and hope? To such are we not only debtors, but eternally grateful. To God, to our parents, to our friends and loved ones, and to Nature, we owe more than we shall ever be able to repay.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Dreadful Riot and Loss of Life in Philadelphia

Philadelphia: It appears that in consequence of a rumor having been circulated on Friday, the 5th inst., that a quantity of arms, ammunition, etc., was deposited in the church of St. Philip de Neri (Catholic) in Southwark, a large and excited crowd collected around the building in the evening, demanding that it be immediately searched. The crowd was, with difficulty restrained until the arrival of the sheriff, who accompanied by the officers of the district, entered the church and soon appeared with twelve muskets, which were removed amidst the cheers of the multitude. The mob demanding a further search of the building, the sheriff took possession of the church with a posse until the arrival of a portion of the military. . . . The officer in command gave the mob five minutes to retire. . . . By a further search on Saturday morning, 53 additional muskets were found, together with pistols, powder, etc., 23 of the muskets being heavily loaded. . . . Reports of guns shook houses in the vicinity. Several persons were killed. . . . Gen. Porter arrived on the scene. . . . An express was forwarded to Washington city for the grant of U. S. forces; and the President immediately ordered out the troops from Forts McHenry and Mifflin.

Married: On Thursday evening, by the Rev. Mr. McMullin, Mr. William Seylar, of Fairfield, to Miss Mary M., daughter of Mr. Wm. McAdams, of this borough.

Died: On Sunday evening at the "Franklin House," in this place, in the 67th year of his age, Mr. Alexander Irvine, a native of Ireland. The body will be interred at his own request, in Mr. McClellan's family burying ground, on Marsh creek.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Sold: Samuel Wolf has sold the Gibe Inn, in this place, to Frank Reamer, of East Berlin, for $10,000. Possession 1st of August.

Installation: The Carlisle Presbytery met in this place on the 8th inst., to install Rev. Mr. Hillis, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place. The report of the examining committee being favorable, Mr. Hillis was ordained and installed on the evening of that day. Rev. Mr. Van Cleave making the opening prayer, Rev. Dr. Edwards, of Hagerstown, delivering the ordination sermon, Rev. Mr. Smith, of Williamsport, Md., delivered the charge to the pastor, and Rev. Dr. Edwards the charge to the people. The services were interesting and impressive.

Graduated: The commencement of Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, took place last week. Among the graduates were Messrs. David B. Lady, of Arendtsville, who delivered a eulogy on Dr. H. Harbaugh, deceased, and J. Finley Hoke, of Gettysburg, who delivered an oration on Public Opinion.

Married: Criswell—Riley—On the 15th inst., by the Rev. E. Breidenbaugh, Mr. Edward Criswell, of York Springs, to Miss Agnes J. Riley, of Mummaburg.

Mayer—Snowden—In Baltimore, on the 30th ult., by Rev. Benjamin H. Latrobe, Prof. Alfred M. Mayer to Maria L. Snowden.

Newman—Corwell—On the 27th ult., by the Rev. D. W. Wolf, Mr. Amos Newman to Miss Anna Lou Corwell, all of Adams county.

The Five Wonders of Gettysburg
For All to Visit: The Katalysine Springs—Orphans National Home—National Cemetery—Pennsylvania College—and E. H. Minning's cream soda and ice cream establishment, on Chambersburg St., adjoining Keystone hotel.

P.S. Our cream soda is delicious.

Leased: We understand that Messrs. Drake and Co., the proprietors of the famous "Plantation Bitters," have leased from Mr. Harman the exclusive right to bottle and ship the Gettysburg Katalysine water. This lease will include, however, with the supply of the water to the Springs Hotel and citizens.

Springs Hotel: The Gettysburg Springs Hotel was opened on Monday and is now in successful operation. We hear but one opinion, that of the most unqualified approval as compared with the best hotels of the country. The manager, Dr. G. D. Smith, has taste, tact and unusual executive capacity, and is determined to make the management satisfactory to the guests. Among the distinguished names registered recently we noticed those of Gov. Fairchild and lady, of Wisconsin; Senator Morton and lady, of Indiana; Mayor Bowen, of Washington, D. C.; Gov. Baldwin, of Michigan; Gov. Ward, of New York; Maj. Gen. Meade and son, of Philadelphia; Hon. J. A. Rawlins, Secretary of War; Hon. Eli S. Parker, commissioner of Indian affairs; Gen. A. A. Humphreys, Gen. R. C. Drumm, Gen. E. Van Vleet, Gen. S. F. Barston, Col. C. E. Cadwalader, Col. H. W.

BYRNES GAINING FOR DEMOCRATIC VICE PRESIDENT

By JACK BELL

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—In a rapidly tightening race for the Democratic vice presidential nomination War Mobilization Director James P. Byrnes pulled up to a challenging position today along with Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Senator Alben W. Barkley in a contest a dark horse might win.

Byrnes, who acted as President Roosevelt's personal agent in helping the 1940 party convention into nominating Wallace, apparently was working behind the scenes here in his own interests. Whether he had a "go ahead" signal from Mr. Roosevelt remained an unanswered question, but one fact was made clear in the Byrnes camp—his name will go before the convention which opens here Wednesday only if strategists are convinced he can obtain a majority of the votes.

The former Supreme court justice and former South Carolina senator kept his own counsel, but such friends as Senator Burnett Maybank of South Carolina were openly advocating his choice as the second man on a wartime ticket combining the commander-in-chief and his No. 1 home front assistant.

Says Wallace Will Win

They believed that publication possibly today of a letter President Roosevelt has written to Senator Jackson of Indiana, the convention's permanent chairman, would crystallize delegate sentiment.

Jackson has the letter but refused to discuss its contents pending formal release. However, one person who had seen it said it contained "a very strong personal appeal" in behalf of Wallace.

Senator Joseph Guffey of Pennsylvania, one of Wallace's floor managers, said he was awaiting the arrival tomorrow of the Iowa delegation, headed by state Chairman Jake More, before opening headquarters and beginning an active campaign among delegates.

Guffey said the Vice President would have 250 votes on the first ballot and would be a second ballot winner. A total of 589 votes will be required to nominate.

Low-Flying Pilot Gets Life Sentence

Marana Field, Ariz., July 17 (AP)—Life imprisonment at hard labor was the court martial verdict given Second Lt. Howard E. Stitts, pilot of a plane that dipped low over a busy Arizona highway and decapitated the driver of an automobile.

The 21-year-old Wakefield, Kansas, flying instructor appeared stunned Saturday after the military tribunal found him guilty of charges of murder and violation of flying regulations.

Stitts' attorney acknowledged during the two-day trial that his plane was flying low but testified his head was in the cockpit while he attempted to rectify landing gear trouble.

Earl W. Nepple, Los Angeles, hotel manager, was killed when the wing tip sliced through the windshield of his automobile on U. S. Highway 89. His wife and another passenger were not injured.

NOT NEWS TO HIM

Greenville, July 17 (AP)—After his Richmond, Va., draft board reclassified him 1-CH, T-4 James C. Truhart, stationed at Camp Reynolds, inquired what it meant. The draft board told the soldier in the Army since April, 1942, that he's now over 38—but still in the Army.

ELECTROCUTED

FATAL DIVE
Connellsville, Pa., July 17 (AP)—Bernard Harvich, 13, of Alicia Heights, Washington county, dove into a shallow pool at Wildwood Boy Scout camp, 15 miles south of here, and was fatally injured Saturday.

NINE WEEK-END DEATHS IN PA.

(By The Associated Press)

Pennsylvania's week-end accident fatalities today totaled nine—including six children.

Earl D. Hoff, 9, of Reading, was instantly killed when he ran from a bus into the path of an automobile during a rainstorm. Thomas McFadden, 11, was killed by a bus in Williamsport. Joyce Krzyzsko, 3, of Johnstown, was fatally injured by a trolley shortly after she wandered from a theater in Franklin.

George D. Singleton, 13, York R. D. 4, drowned in the Conewago creek while on an outing with a group of Boy Scouts, and Bernard Harvich, 13, of Alicia Heights, Washington county, died of a broken neck when he dove into a shallow pool at the Wildwood Boy Scout camp near Wilmerding.

Near Hazleton, Carolyn Champion, 6, of Jeaneville, died in a 150-foot fall into a coal stripping pit.

Other deaths were: Ambrose Figner, 36, of Mountain Top, fatally burned when fire flared through a tank car of high test aviation gasoline at the Penobscott yards of the Central Railroad company of New Jersey.

Andrew Leeper, 39, electrocuted while working at a lathe in a Uniontown plant.

Raymond Rosner, 29, of McKeesport, struck by a train.

Laurels Smother Wilkes-Barre 28-3

(By The Associated Press)

The league—leading Hartford Laurels unleashed a record Eastern league one inning scoring spree yesterday as they swept a double bill from the Wilkes-Barre Barons 6 to 3 and 28 to 3.

The Laurels put together 15 hits, two walks and a Baron error to score 18 times in the fourth inning of the seven-inning second game to pass the old Eastern mark of 14 set in 1925 by Williamsport in a game with Scranton.

The Hartford power display also tied the major league mark for runs by one team in a single inning set in 1883 by the Chicago National league club.

The New Englanders picked up a game on the Albany Senators, rained out at Scranton, to stretch their league lead to 5½ games.

Broken Leg Ends Racing For Stallion

Elkhorn, Wis., July 17 (AP)—Volo Song, world champion trotting stallion, is through as a competitor, his career cut short by a broken leg suffered yesterday in a $400 race, but veterinarians and trainer Harry Fitzpatrick hoped to save him for breeding purposes.

Winner of the $50,000 Hambletonian classic for 3-year-old trotters at Goshen, New York, last August, the handsome brown son of Volomite had, less than a week before, set a world record for trotting stallions of 1:57½ at Cleveland.

Horsemen hailed him as the successor to the renowned trotting gelding, Grehound, whose winning race record of 1:57½ was set in 1936. Purchased last fall by E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Illinois, the price tag on Volo was $30,000.

Relatives Greeted By "Dead" Woman

Towanda, Pa., July 17—A number of relatives arrived by train yesterday to attend the "funeral" of Mrs. Ash Parsons.

Mrs. Parsons greeted them sleepily—it was six o'clock in the morning—and cooked breakfast.

One of the relatives, misinterpreting a telegram, had spread the erroneous report of her death.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Just a little "hello" and "waker-upper" to the friends to whom I haven't had time to write.

We landed after the first assault troops and have been busy ever since—so busy that to be able to wash and shave once a week is an eagerly anticipated pleasure. Day by day, however, things are gradually assuming their normal routine. My job as signaller is similar to that of traffic cop, i.e., directing ships, where, and when to unload, and there sure are plenty of ships.

The folks at home should certainly praise, and honor the soldier to the highest. If they could have seen the beach after the first day with (deleted by censor) they would cease their petty grumbling about gasoline, ration points, or many other small inconveniences they are suffering. The fact they are in one piece, or at least living renders them unimpressed.

The sooner the American people, in fact all the peoples of the world awoken to the realization, that war is nothing but a costly plaything, in lives and precious material, of pot-bellied politicians, and bottom heavy capitalists, the sooner they would propose a bill for our brilliant war mongers to lead us onto the (deleted by censor) before propaganda even started. Money loses its value when you hug the bottom of a fox hole, hungry, dirty, and (deleted by censor).

Here's looking to the brightest, busiest future for the best battlefield in the world.

ROBERT C. WILLIAMS, S 1-c

Australia

Dear Sir: The evening news report is just over. We listened with keen interest to the German report that their forces had evacuated Cassino. We are proud of our comrades in arms. The ordeal that faces our boys on "D-Day" cannot be conceived by the average human mind. It will not be human and yet it will be necessary. The conditions will be vastly different from those that confront our boys down here in the SWPA. Jungle warfare involves fighting an unseen but none the less real enemy.

In either case extraordinary courage is required—courage that few realize they possess until put to the test. It is a quality that you parents have given to your sons in small doses from childhood through adolescence to young manhood. You weren't rearing them for this type of life but it was your highest wish that they would be worthy of the name they bore and in some way be of service to humanity.

You will not be disappointed for they are doing just that. They will bring honor and glory to your family name far beyond anything you have ever hoped or dreamed.

They are doing this job not simply as a thing of duty. It goes far deeper than that. It is something far more than patriotism. They are doing it willingly and of set purpose. Sacrifice is involved. The men are aware of this but they are equally conscious of the ultimate conclusion which will spell VICTORY and PEACE. They want these possessions for all mankind.

Many are the fathers of sons. Others will be. They want a different kind of world for their sons than they inherited. I am sure that none of them want their sons to be soft and effeminate. They want them to be real men—stronger, braver, more courageous than their dads. But they are hoping and praying that through their efforts devoted to destruction the world will pass through the birthpangs of a new era. It is their desire that in this new era their sons may devote all their strength and skill and talent to constructive pursuits.

Darkness still covers the earth. Sorrow fills the hearts of many and loneliness the lives of still more. Nevertheless with such desire motivating the ones who are doing the real job I can see an ever en-

Platform Framers Hear Race Issue

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—The race issue, major root of the "Southern revolt" within the Democratic party, parades in full dress today before the party's platform framers, with spokesmen for Negro organizations demanding a plank declaring for equal opportunity for the races, and for anti-lynching and anti-poll tax laws.

Thus, at its first public hearing, the 23-member platform group was confronted squarely with the delegate job of finding phraseology for the race plank to forestall a convention floor fight, and perhaps to help restore unity in Democratic ranks.

In addition to spokesmen for Negro organizations, Platform Committee Chairman John W. McCormack arranged to hear proposals today for planks dealing with agriculture, women's rights, and the Palestine question.

larging silver lining back of the clouds that tend to mar our vision.

You folks at home have been carrying your part in the war effort remarkably well. The county has over subscribed every War Bond Drive, every Red Cross appeal and you have contributed liberally to many other worthy causes. You are working hard—producing large quantities of foodstuffs and manufacturing articles. We are proud of you and happy to claim Adams County as our home.

But now you will face the real test. You thought you were sacrificing when you were doing the above. I do not want to belittle your efforts. God forbid. Are you now ready for a much greater sacrifice?

You will be reading long casualty lists. More and more families will be receiving telegrams, "The War Department regrets to inform you," etc. They will come into our little communities, into our churches, into our homes. A casualty list is a very impersonal thing until it strikes home.

We have never lost faith in you. We are confident that you have unbonded faith in us. Let us together express our implicit faith in the goodness, the righteousness and the love of God. Pray on "D-Day" but let not those prayers be on end in themselves. Rather let them open the way for a closer walk with God and a better acquaintance with His will.

This and this alone can bring us through successfully and this will.

GEORGE H. BERKHEIMER.

Flashes Of Life

IRKED—

Philadelphia, Pa. (AP)—One soldier's wife, when hailed by romantically inclined motorists, passes out little printed cards which say:

"Maybe the gas you waste in pursuit of lone women could have prevented one of our planes from making a forced landing behind enemy lines. My husband is serving in the armed forces. What are you doing, skunk?"

HOT BOX

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho (AP)—Firemen dashed to the Lions club. The ice box was on fire.

SLOW MOTION

Wilsall, Mont. (AP)—It took a postal card 30 years to make the 40-mile trip from White Sulphur Springs to Wilsall.

The card was mailed to Mr. and Mrs. George Bruckert in May, 1914. Recently it was delivered, but a relative had to accept the card. The Bruckerts had been dead for years.

Enthusiasm Marks Monetary Confab

Bretton Woods, N. H., July 17 (AP)—Partial reservations by six nations toward plans for creation of an $8,800,000,000 post-war "prosperity fund" failed today to dampen the enthusiasm of delegates to the United Nations monetary conference.

Yet to come out of the parley's last two working days is an agreement to recommend a $10,000,000,000 world bank to make available loans for rebuilding and developing the 44 countries represented here. In the words of an official conference spokesman, however, that project presents "many fewer" problems than the proposed monetary fund entails.

Into the giant postwar "kitty," still awaiting ratification by each government, the United States would put $2,750,000,000, Great Britain $1,300,000,000, Russia $1,200,000,000, China $550,000,000 and France $450,000,000. The amounts for other nations taper down to $500,000 each for Liberia and Panama.

The quotas represent the amounts of gold and local currency each nation will invest. They also measure degrees of authority, as well as amounts of foreign exchange, that each country may obtain from the common pool to pay off short-term world trade debts.

days and I hope to soon get back to my outfit—although it is very nice here after fighting and sleeping in foxholes. The nurses are all very nice and well, everything is just like home almost. I want to express my thanks to the Red Cross for all they have done and are doing for my buddies and I over here.

The time seems to pass rapidly for me over here, with so much going on. We boys are all hoping and praying to soon be back with our friends and loved ones. But until the battle is won—we will stay. The weather here this 4th of July is quite warm as it has been the past few weeks. But this 4th we are not having parades and fireworks as you people back home are having. But next year—we boys will all be home—to stay!

I want to express my thanks to all my friends, parents and loved ones, for all they are doing for me while I am over here. The letters and packages are certainly appreciated very much, and someday I hope I can repay you all for them.

Before I sign off, I want to say "hello" to my Mother, Dad, sisters and brothers, and also my sweet girl friend. She will know to whom I refer—even though she has different thoughts in her mind—so I won't mention any name.

Well, I guess I'd better say "cheerio" for now, wishing you all the best of luck, and God willing—I'll be seeing you soon. Keep those letters rolling "home-folks!" I remain, as always

Lionel Barrymore Invalid Composer

Hollywood, July 17 (AP)—He's 66 and a semi-invalid, but Lionel Barrymore—who wanted to be a painter, yet followed his illustrious parents, Maurice Barrymore and Georgia Drew, on the stage—may be remembered best as a composer.

A talented pianist, the screen's "Dr. Gillespie," who requires a wheel chair, will hear his "Valse Fantasia" played next Sunday in Hollywood Bowl. Symphony orchestras have played his works, such as the suite "Tableaux Russes," various sketches, and a tone poem, "In Memoriam," dedicated to his late brother, John.

There is nothing new, Barrymore insists, in his compositions; "I've borrowed from everyone except the studio gateman, and I'll get around to him later."

(Continued from Page 1) nature of the war bond campaign will be a failure if the individuals fail to come through with their share of the quota it was pointed out.

The "E" bond quota directly appeals to the individuals to back up their men and women, their sons and daughters in the armed forces, members of the committee asserted. Not only will the money turned in purchase materials of war for those in the armed forces, but the "E" bonds will do much to stabilize the economy of the country for the men and women when they return from the fighting fronts.

Backlog For Future During the present time the purchase of individual "E" bonds will help prevent inflation from causing great difficulties for the wives and children and parents of men in the armed forces who are supporting their families through allotments.

The ever present dangers of inflation, if they get out of hand, would cause untold suffering to the wives and families of service men, it was pointed out.

At the same time the individual savings represented by "E" bond purchases will be a backlog to tide the nation over the trying reconversion period after the war thus again aiding the men in the armed forces as they return, it was said.

Committees Praised "Many people in the county cannot understand why since we are over the top in the Fifth War Loan drive there is any need for purchase of additional bonds by individuals," Edmund W. Thomas, county war finance committee chairman said at the meeting. "The answer should be obvious. While we have met the overall quota, we are still $300,000 behind the quota assigned for "E" bonds in addition to the great need for the sale of "E" bonds it should be a matter of pride to the county that it go over the top in all of the quotas assigned."

Attending the meeting, in addition to Mr. Thomas, were Paul Thomas, chairman of the payroll savings committee Mrs. Frank Kramer, representing Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the Women's division, Mrs. Murray B. Frazer, Jr., of the special events committee, and Lloyd W. Kuhn, chairman of the bank and finance committee.

Members of all committees were praised for the chairman for their "magnificent work during the Fifth War Loan drive. Every chairman reported the members of his county committee and of all local committees under his jurisdiction, "put forth the most intense efforts and were unselfish in their giving of time, money and effort to insure the success of the drive."

Chapter 14 Angel was in a dither. In less than an hour she was supposed to be singing at the defense plant. Louise was ready and waiting, and in a few minutes Dick Stanley would be coming by for them.

Everything, it seemed, had gone wrong. In fact, the whole household was upset for one reason or another. It was almost as if Fate and the whole Malone family had ganged up on Angel to make this, her first public appearance as a singer, impossible.

Baby Jeanne had chosen this morning to cry almost constantly, and Martha's efforts to quiet her had been of no avail. From his cot in the kitchen, Bobby, who had stayed out disgracefully late last night, was complaining because he had to get up. Martha had been pattering back and forth all morning between the bedroom and the kitchen, alternately trying to pacify the baby and pleading with Bobby to get out of bed.

"I should have my head examined anyhow—for promising to sing at a defense factory," Angel fumed as she changed her dress for the fourth time and began to rearrange her hair. "What do those dopes know about singing?"

Louise stared at her sister, amazement. "But you promised," she exclaimed. "Besides, they're playing an important part in the war effort."

Angel sniffed and continued to cog with her hair. "We'll cut out the cog-waving and cheap optimism, if you don't mind," she said. "And if that was meant for a dirty crack at me—well, we'll snap that too. You seem to forget that I've made my contribution to the war effort—and a very important one at that."

Louise started at her sister, frankly puzzled. "You—your surely don't mean those newspaper pictures—and the story you're going to sign?"

"Don't be silly. I'm signing the story for money—and heaven knows we could use a little," Angel paused a moment; then her face sobered and her blue eyes became suddenly tragic. "As for my contribution," she said in a voice that was little more than a whisper, "you seem to forget that I've made the supreme sacrifice—I've given my husband."

Louise was instantly contrite. "But hurry, Angel," she begged. "You're already late!"

Martha from another room, heard Angel quarreling with Bobby over whether or not that young man would go to the corner drug store and buy a lipstick for his older sister.

Bobby's actions had worried Martha more than she would admit. Since Angel had come, the boy had been little at home, seemed to have taken up with wild and unknown friends on the Brooklyn streets.

"Perhaps I shouldn't have made him give up his saxophone, or send Buster away," Martha reflected sadly. "At least they kept him in—"

Not only was Bobby staying away from home most of the time now, but he seemed to have money, too. Not a lot of it, but enough to disturb Martha and make her wonder. His vague references to a part-time job in which the hours were strange, classic hadn't helped much. Where on earth had he gotten the money for that horrible zoot suit as he called it?

Then there was last night. Martha had not been asleep when Bobby came in. In fact, she had slept very little of late. She heard the door strike two last night—and then, a few minutes later, she heard Bobby tip toe past her door. After a while she'd gone back to make sure that the gas was turned off. She had never liked the idea of Bobby sleeping in the kitchen. Too many accidents were caused by defective pilot lights and escaping gas.

She had stood for a moment beside Bobby's bed, looking down at him. Long there asleep, he seemed so young and so innocent that her fears were momentarily forgotten. She had leaned over to kiss him—and smelled the odor of liquor on his breath.

"And he's only seventeen," she said now, covering her face with her hands. "But what can I do? Dear God, what can I do?"

SCHOOL - LUNCH SUGAR REVISED

Revised allowances of sugar to "institutional users" for use in home canning may affect school lunch programs where the schools are registered with OPA as institutional users. In such cases the canning activities are often carried on during the summer in a school or community canning center with the help of local women who volunteer their services. Fruit and vegetables to be canned are usually raised by the school, or donated from the surplus of Victory gardens and home orchards. Sugar allowances to schools for such canning activities will be:

For jams, preserves and marmalades—one pound of sugar for each pound of prepared fruit used in their making.

For jellies—one pound of sugar for each two pounds of prepared fruit (or one pint of fruit juice) used in their making.

For fruit butters—one pound of sugar for each two pounds of prepared fruit pulp used in their making.

For putting up fruits and fruit products other than jams, preserves, marmalades, jellies and fruit butters, the allotment of sugar to institutional users continues essentially unchanged at one pound of

Production Of Bombers Resumed

Detroit, July 17 (AP)—Production of B-24 Liberators was resumed at the Willow Run bomber plant today as employees began returning to work. The Ford Motor company closed the plant Saturday because of work stoppages by crane operators and riggers.

Skeleton crews entered the huge plant last midnight to prepare for full production on the day shift.

The back-to-work movement followed a meeting late yesterday of 5,000 members of Local 30, United Automobile Workers (CIO), at which a vote to resume production was unanimous. Company, Union and War Labor Board representatives met today to discuss grievances, which include seniority rights and transfer of skilled employees.

Chapter 14

Angel was in a dither. In less than an hour she was supposed to be singing at the defense plant. Louise was ready and waiting, and in a few minutes Dick Stanley would be coming by for them.

Everything, it seemed, had gone wrong. In fact, the whole household was upset for one reason or another. It was almost as if Fate and the whole Malone family had ganged up on Angel to make this, her first public appearance as a singer, impossible.

Baby Jeanne had chosen this morning to cry almost constantly, and Martha's efforts to quiet her had been of no avail. From his cot in the kitchen, Bobby, who had stayed out disgracefully late last night, was complaining because he had to get up. Martha had been pattering back and forth all morning between the bedroom and the kitchen, alternately trying to pacify the baby and pleading with Bobby to get out of bed.

"I should have my head examined anyhow—promising to sing at a defense factory," Angel fumed as she changed her dress for the fourth time and began to rearrange her hair. "What do those dopes know about singing? I should have phoned Steve Turcot and gotten out of it somehow."

Louise stared at her sister, amazement. "But you promised," she exclaimed. "Besides, they're playing an important part in the war effort."

Angel sniffed and continued to toy with her hair. "We'll cut out the flag-waving and cheap optimism, if you don't mind," she said. "And if that was meant for a dirty crack at me—well, we'll skip that too. You seem to forget that I've made my contribution to the war effort—and a very important one at that."

Louise started at her sister, frankly puzzled. "You—you surely don't mean those newspaper pictures—and the story you're going to sign?"

"Don't be silly. I'm signing the story for money—and heaven knows we could use a little," Angel paused a moment; then her face sobered and her blue eyes became suddenly tragic. "As for my contribution," she said in a voice that was little more than a whisper, "you seem to forget that I've made the supreme sacrifice. I—I've given my husband."

Louise was instantly contrite. "But hurry, Angel," she begged. "You're already late!"

Martha, from another room, heard Angel quarreling with Bobby over whether or not that young man would go to the corner drug store and buy a lipstick for his older sister.

Bobby's actions had worried Martha more than she would admit. Since Angel had come, the boy had been little at home, seemed to have taken up with wild and unknown friends on the Brooklyn streets.

"Perhaps I shouldn't have made him give up his saxophone, or send Buster away," Martha reflected sadly. "At least they kept him interested—and at home."

Not only was Bobby staying away from home most of the time now, but he seemed to have money, too. Not a lot of it, but enough to disturb Martha and make her wonder. His vague references to a part-time job in which the hours were strangely elastic hadn't helped much. Where on earth had he gotten the money for that horrible zoot suit, as he called it?

Then there was last night. Martha had not been asleep when Bobby came in. In fact, she had slept very little of late. She heard the clock strike two last night—and then, a few minutes later, she'd heard Bobby tiptoe past her door. After a while she'd gone back to make sure that the gas was turned off. She had never liked the idea of Bobby sleeping in the kitchen. Too many accidents were caused by defective pilot lights and escaping gas.

She had stood for a moment beside Bobby's bed, looking down at him. Lying there asleep, he seemed so young and so innocent that her fears were momentarily forgotten. She had leaned over to kiss him—and smelled the odor of liquor on his breath.

"And he's only seventeen," she said now, covering her face with her hands. "But what can I do? Dear God, what can I do?"

SCHOOL - LUNCH SUGAR REVISED

Revised allowances of sugar to "institutional users" for use in home canning may affect school lunch programs where the schools are registered with OPA as institutional users. In such cases the canning activities are often carried on during the summer in a school or community canning center with the help of local women who volunteer their services. Fruit and vegetables to be canned are usually raised by the school, or donated from the surplus of victory gardens and home orchards. Sugar allotments to schools for such canning activities will be:

For jams, preserves and marmalades—one pound of sugar for each pound of prepared fruit used in their making.

For jellies—one pound of sugar for each two pounds of prepared fruit (or one pint of fruit juice) used in their making.

For fruit butters—one pound of sugar for each two pounds of prepared fruit pulp used in their making.

For putting up fruits and fruit products other than jams, preserves, marmalades, jellies and fruit butters, the allotment of sugar to institutional users continues essentially unchanged at one pound of

Production Of Bombers Resumed

Detroit, July 17 (AP)— Production of B-24 Liberators was resumed at the Willow Run bomber plant today as employees began returning to work. The Ford Motor company closed the plant Saturday because of work stoppages by crane operators and riggers.

Skeleton crews entered the huge plant last midnight to prepare for full production on the day shift.

The back-to-work movement followed a meeting late yesterday of 5,000 members of local 50, United Automobile Workers (CIO), at which a vote to resume production was unanimous. Company, union and War Labor Board representatives met today to discuss grievances, which include seniority rights and transfer of skilled employees.

sugar for each four quarts or eight pounds of finished fruit.

Aluminum Freed For Pots And Pans

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Use of aluminum for manufacture of pots and pans is authorized in the first of a series of orders intended to put into effect a program by War Production Board chairman Donald Nelson for limited reconversion of industry.

The program, which had been opposed by the War and Navy departments, approves substitution of aluminum for other metals in any civilian goods now being manufactured. It does not, however, increase production of any consumer item.

Some restrictions on the use of aluminum were continued in effect, principally to prevent the diversion of labor from war goods to making peacetime products.

Sugar cane, pineapples and bananas are the chief crops of the Bonin islands.

BROWNS TAKE PAIR TO HOLD TOP POSITION

By JOE REICHLER

(By The Associated Press)

The St. Louis Browns, en route home today from their second eastern trip, still are perched at the top of the standings, giving every indication they are the team to beat for the American league flag.

They wound up their stay abroad by capturing both games of a double header with the Cleveland Indians, 8-7 and 2-1, before 32,553, with both games going 12 innings. The double win gave the Browns a record of 10 wins and 10 losses on their trip, after having dropped four of their first six first games. The showing is a great improvement over their first road trip, which brought them only six victories against 12 defeats.

The sweep increased the Browns' first place lead over the New York Yankees to two full games. Second Baseman Don Gutteridge scored the winning runs in the 12th inning of each game, tallying in the opener on George McQuinn's single and scoring in the nightcap when Mill Byrnes followed his lead-off triple with a long fly. Jack Kramer went the distance in the finale to register his ninth victory, his first since June 13.

Yanks Slam Homers

Four home runs by Dan Savage, Johnny Lindell, George Stinnett, and Herschel Martin gave the New York Yankees a 7-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the opener of a scheduled twin-bill before 41,171. A thunderstorm prevented the team from playing the second game. The victory gave the Yankees the series, four games to one. Dizzy Trout won his second game in four days and his 12th of the season as Detroit and the Chicago White Sox divided their double header, the White Sox winning the first 7-2 and the Tigers taking the second 7-3.

The Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates exchanged 1-0 shutouts, with Hank Wyse of the Cubs gaining the nod over Truett (Rip) Sewell in the opener, and Max Butcher of the Pirates shading Claude Passeau in the second, before 40,920 at Wrigley field.

Cubs Divide

A trio of singles by Bill Nicholson, Andy Pafko and Don Johnson, in the second inning of the opener, gave the Cubs their 14th victory in 20 games. Butcher, besides holding the Cubs to two hits in the finale, scored the Pirates lone run in the eighth inning double and Pete Costantini's single.

The league leading St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds split their doubleheader. The Cards won the opener 4-2. The Reds took the nightcap 3-2 on Harry Brecheen's balk in the eighth inning, allowing Eddie Miller to score the deciding run. Sylvester (Blix) Donnelly won his first major league game in the opener.

Washington won two games from the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-4 and 4-3, with Mello Candini and Mickey Baefner gaining the decisions. George Case stole a base in each game to raise his league-leading total to 26.

End Losing Streak

Brooklyn ended its longest losing streak in history by winning the second game 3-5 from the Boston Braves, after having dropped its 15th straight in losing the opener, 8-4. Curt Davis gained the distinction of ending the Dodgers' slump with route-going seven-hit performance.

The New York Giants dropped the first game to the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-2. They were leading 6-3 after eight innings of the nightcap, when the game was halted by the Pennsylvania 6:55 p. m. curfew law. This game will be completed at a later date.

SENATORS LOSE CUBAN PLAYERS

Washington, July 17 (AP)—The Washington ball club, a bi-racial outfit all season, was back on an English-speaking basis today. Of some 15 Latin-Americans who turned up at the training camp last spring, only two remained—and they both converse in "Americano."

Two of the team's mainstays, infielder Gilberto Torres and outfielder Roberto Ortiz, and a substitute catcher, Fermin Guerra, quit the club yesterday after being told by National Selective Service officials to register for the military draft or leave the country. Torres, Ortiz and Guerra—whose departure made Washington's already feeble pennant hopes blacker than the darkest night—elected to return to their Cuban homes and subject themselves to Army calls there.

A fourth Cuban, Rookie Infielder Pedro Gomez, decided to stick with the club and register in this country. Gomez and Alejandro Carrasquel, veteran relief pitcher from Venezuela, are the only Latins left on the squad. Carrasquel wasn't involved in the draft directives. "Naturally, I hate to see these boys go," Clark Griffith said, "but it's an order from a war agency, and

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 17 (AP)—Having

recently cast what might be regarded as a few aspersions on the climate of Texas, this dept. hastens to make amends by reporting that the Lone Star state is back in the big time in the boxing business. . . . Wilbur Martin of the San Antonio News informs us that back-busting in Galveston and Houston is doing well and, under the guidance of the veteran Sam Slotky, San Antonio is making a comeback. . . . A "parade of champions" there July 4 presented Fritz Zivic, Al Hostak and Lieut. Bob Pastor, and commanding officers of the numerous Army out-fits in the vicinity have been liberal about letting their boys pick up a piece of change. . . . "Money floats like water in this state," says Martin, "and people will lay it on the line to see any kind of sporting contest."

FAN FARE

"The Golden Gloves has helped put boxing on a level where mothers will let their youngsters attend," Martin adds. "In fact, mama usually is sitting right down ring-side, sodapop, gum and a 'kill the bum' attitude. It's the war!"

TURNABOUT

Just to prevent any head swelling, we note it was a Texas paper that recently had this line about George Wainley, who is expected to play a lot of football for Rice this year: "For three years he was named the most vulnerable player in District 14-AA."

MONDAY MATINEE

Stacy Graham, who had trials with the Red Sox and Dodgers and served a long term in the Montreal outfield, is back in the New England league after eleven years with the Quincy, Mass. Shipbuilders. . . . Since he signed to coach the Columbia line next fall, Tad Wieman is definitely out as coach of the teamless Princeton Tigers, who will be looking for a big-time tutor when they resume football. . . . The Pen-tation university of Mexico City will make a basketball tour of the United States in December and January. . . . Marty McManus, former big leaguer who pilots the Kenosha, Wis., team of the all-American girls pro baseball league, must be envied by managers of masculine teams. During a recent road trip, the gals washed and ironed Marty's shirts.

SERVICE DEPT.

Sgt. Charley Whitehead, three-time New Jersey amateur golf champion, is stationed at Hyde Park, N. Y., where the MP's guard the President's home like a pre-war golf ball. . . . Lieut. Ted Williams, now patrolling right field for the Bronson Naval Air station team at Pensacola, Fla., says his club has four hitters better than himself. Bating just ahead of Ted is Monk Maznicki, former Boston college and Bears footballer. . . . Back from 18 months in the South Pacific, where he served on Bougainville, Guadalcanal and the Solomonis, Marine trainee Charley Sullivan looks like a one-man track team at Penn State. He'll make his debut in the high jump and hurdles against Cornell, July 22.

SPORT SHORTS

Pittsburgh, July 17 (AP)—Mello Bettina, the Beacon, N. Y., better now ranked No. 5 among the nation's heavyweight, and Curtis (the hatchet man) Sheppard, of Pittsburgh, scheduled lights limbering up drills today to wind up training for their ten-round battle tomorrow night at Forbes field. . . . Bettina, former lightweight champion, was rated an 8-5 favorite over the slugging Sheppard in this battle between two virtually diametrically opposite styles of fighting—a fight that will see the bobbing, weaving, rushing southpaw New Yorker opposing a puncher who is content to fight defensively while awaiting an opening for a hammer-like right hand.

Baltimore, June 17 (AP)—Baltimore's International league pennant aspirations took an upward leap today as Ace Pitcher Sam Lowry returned to the mound instead of entering the Navy as scheduled.

Announcement of his deferment by his Philadelphia draft board until after the expected birth of a child to his wife this fall was made yesterday by Orioles Manager "Tommy" Thomas after Lowry, in the first end of a double-header against Jersey City, pitched what was thought to be his last game for the duration. The 9-3 win was his fight against five defeats.

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—George Case, Washington's base-stealer deluxe, will hook up in a speed duel with fleet Thurman Tucker of the White Sox featuring a war relief baseball show scheduled July 26 at Comiskey Park. They'll match strides in a 60-yard sprint.

There's nothing to do but comply. We're more interested in helping to win the war than we are in winning ball games."

EASTERN TEAM IS PRIMED FOR ALL-STAR TILT

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Lancaster, Pa., July 17 (AP)—Bolstered by five players from the league-leading Wilmington Blue Rocks, the Interstate league's eastern team will seek to repeat its 1943 victory over the western contingent in tonight's all-star game.

The balance of power tips slightly to the west, however, on the basis of season records. Hagerstown, Lancaster and York have a combined total of 115 wins against 106 losses, the figures being reversed, of course, for Wilmington, Allentown and Trenton of the east.

The east won last year's game 3 to 2 although outlived 12 to 3. Neither manager—Herb Brett of Hagerstown for the west or Ollie Vanek of Allentown for the east—named his starting pitcher in advance of Allentown for the east—from which to choose.

Griffiths Unanimous Choice

Gate receipts of the game will become part of the season's final awards to the pennant winner and runner-up.

Players were selected by the league's Baseball Writers and Broadcasters association. Only unanimous choice was John (Bunny) Griffiths, York playing manager who was picked for shortstop.

In tune-up games yesterday Wilmington swept both halves of a double header from Hagerstown, 3 to 0 and 5 to 2. Trenton, after bowing 16-3 to Lancaster, ended a 10-game losing streak with a 5 to 4 victory. York and Allentown also split, Allentown taking the opener 11 to 4 and York coming back with a 12 to 0 whitewash in the nightcap.

Tonight's lineups:

BROWNS TAKE PAIR TO HOLD TOP POSITION

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)

The St. Louis Browns, en route home today from their second eastern trip, still are perched at the top of the standings, giving every indication they are the team to beat for the American league flag.

They wound up their stay abroad by capturing both games of a double header from the Cleveland Indians, 8-7 and 2-1, before 32,553, with both games going 12 innings. The double win gave the Browns a record of 10 wins and 10 losses on their trip, after having dropped four of their first six first games. The showing is a great improvement over their first road trip, which brought them only six victories against 12 defeats.

The sweep increased the Browns' first place lead over the New York Yankees to two full games. Second Baseman Don Gutteridge scored the winning runs in the 12th inning of each game, tallying in the opener on George McQuinn's single and scoring in the nightcap when Milt Byrnes followed his lead-off triple with a long fly. Jack Kramer went the distance in the finale to register his ninth victory, his first since June 13.

Yanks Slam Homers

Four home runs by Dan Savage, Johnny Lindell, George Stirmweiss and Herschel Martin gave the New York Yankees a 7-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the opener of a scheduled twin-bill before 41,171. A thundershower prevented the team from playing the second game. The victory gave the Yankees the series, four games to one.

Dizzy Trout won his second game in four days and his 12th of the season as Detroit and the Chicago White Sox divided their double header, the White Sox winning the first 7-2 and the Tigers taking the second 7-3.

The Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates exchanged 1-0 shutouts, with Hank Wyse of the Cubs gaining the nod over Truett (Rip) Sewell in the opener, and Max Butcher of the Pirates shading Claude Passeau in the second, before 40,920 at Wrigley field.

Cubs Divide

A trio of singles by Bill Nicholson, Andy Pafko and Don Johnson in the second inning of the opener gave the Cubs their 14th victory in 20 games. Butcher, besides holding the Cubs to two hits in the finale, scored the Pirates lone run on his eighth inning double and Pete Coscarart's single.

The league leading St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds split their doubleheader. The Cards won the opener 4-2. The Reds took the nightcap 3-2 on Harry Breechen's balk in the eighth inning, allowing Eddie Miller to score the deciding run. Sylvester (Blix) Donnelly won his first major league game in the opener.

Washington won two games from the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-4 and 4-3, with Milo Candini and Mickey Haeferne gaining the decisions. George Case stole a base in each game to raise his league-leading total to 26.

End Losing Streak

Brooklyn ended its longest losing streak in history by winning the second game 8-5 from the Boston Braves, after having dropped its 15th straight in losing the opener, 8-4. Curt Davis gained the distinction of ending the Dodgers' slump with route-going seven-hit performance.

The New York Giants dropped the first game to the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-2. They were leading 6-3 after eight innings of the nightcap, when the game was halted by the Pennsylvania 6:55 p. m. curfew law. This game will be completed at a later date.

Senators Lose CUBAN PLAYERS

Washington, July 17 (AP)—The Washington ball club, a bi-lingual outfit all season, was back on an English-speaking basis today. Of some 15 Latin-Americans who turned up at the training camp last spring, only two remained—and they both converse in "Americano."

Two of the team's mainstays, infielder Gilberto Torres and outfielder Roberto Ortiz, and a substitute catcher, Fermin Guerra, left the club yesterday after being told by National Selective Service officials to register for the military draft or leave the country.

Torres, Ortiz and Guerra—whose departure made Washington's already feeble pennant hopes blacker than the darkest night—elected to return to their Cuban homes and subject themselves to Army calls there.

A fourth Cuban, Rookie Infielder Pedro Gomez, decided to stick with the club and register in this country. Gomez and Alejandro Carrasquel, veteran relief pitcher from Venezuela, are the only Latinos left on the squad. Carrasquel wasn't involved in the draft directives.

"Naturally, I hate to see these boys go," Clark Griffith said, "but it's an order from a war agency, and there's nothing to do but comply. We're more interested in helping to win the war than we are in winning ball games."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, July 17 (AP)—Having recently cast what might be regarded as a few aspersions on the climate of Texas, this dept. hastens to make amends by reporting that the Lone Star state is back in the big time in the boxing business. . . .

Wilbur Martin of the San Antonio News informs us that back-busting in Galveston and Houston is doing well and, under the guidance of the veteran Sam Slotsky, San Antonio is making a comeback. . . . A "parade of champions" there July 4 presented Fritz Zivic, Al Hostak and Lieut. Bob Pastor, and commanding officers of the numerous Army outfits in the vicinity have been liberal about letting their boys pick up a piece of change. . . . "Money floats like water in this state," says Martin, "and people will lay it on the line to see any kind of sporting contest."

FAN FARE

"The Golden Gloves has helped put boxing on a level where mothers will let their youngsters attend," Martin adds. "In fact, mama usually is sitting right down ringside, sodapop, gum and a 'kill the bum' attitude. It's the war!"

TURNOABOUT

Just to prevent any head swelling, we note it was a Texas paper that recently had this line about George Wainley, who is expected to play a lot of football for Rice this year: "For three years he was named the most vulnerable player in District 14-AA."

MONDAY MATINEE

Sunny Graham, who had trials with the Red Sox and Dodgers and served a long term in the Montreal outfield, is back in the New England league after eleven years with the Quincy, Mass., Shipbuilders. . . . Since he signed to coach the Columbia line next fall, Tad Wieman is definitely out as coach of the teamless Princeton Tigers, who will be looking for a big-time tutor when they resume football. . . . The Penatathlon universidad of Mexico City will make a basketball tour of the United States in December and January. . . . Marty McManus, former big leaguer who pilots the Kenosha, Wis., team of the all-America girls pro baseball league, must be envied by managers of masculine teams. During a recent road trip, the gals washed and ironed Marty's shirts.

SERVICE DEPT.

Sgt. Charley Whitehead, three-time New Jersey amateur golf champion, is stationed at Hyde Park, N. Y., where the MP's guard the President's home like a pre-war golf ball. . . . Lieut. Ted Williams, now patrolling right field for the Bronson Naval Air station team at Pensacola, Fla., says his club has four hitters better than himself. Batting just ahead of Ted is Monk Maznicki, former Boston college and Bears footballer. . . . Back from 18 months in the South Pacific, where he served on Bougainville, Guadalcanal and the Solomons, Marine trainee Charley Sullivan looks like a one-man track team at Penn State. He'll make his debut in the high jump and hurdles against Cornell, July 22.

EASTERN TEAM IS PRIMED FOR ALL-STAR TILT

Lancaster, Pa., July 17 (AP)—Bolstered by five players from the league-leading Wilmington Blue Rocks, the Interstate league's eastern team will seek to repeat its 1943 victory over the western contingent in tonight's all-star game.

The balance of power tips slightly to the west, however, on the basis of season records. Hagerstown, Lancaster and York have a combined total of 115 wins against 106 losses, the figures being reversed, of course, for Wilmington, Allentown and Trenton of the east.

The east won last year's game 3 to 2 although outthrew 12 to 3. Neither manager—Herb Brett of Hagerstown for the west or Ollie Vanek of Allentown for the east—named his starting pitcher in advance of Allentown for the east—from which to choose.

Griffiths Unanimous Choice

Gate receipts of the game will become part of the season's final awards to the pennant winner and runner-up.

Players were selected by the league's Baseball Writers and Broadcasters association. Only unanimous choice was John (Bunny) Griffiths, York playing manager who was picked for shortstop.

In tune-up games yesterday Wilmington swept both halves of a double header from Hagerstown, 3 to 0 and 5 to 2. Trenton, after bowing 16-3 to Lancaster, ended a 10-game losing streak with a 5 to 4 victory. York and Allentown also split, Allentown taking the opener 11 to 4 and York coming back with a 12 to 0 whitewash in the nightcap.

TO CLARIFY LAW

Pittsburgh, July 17 (AP)—Clarification of business and commercial laws throughout all of the states is the goal of a $150,000 grant made by the Maurice Pauk foundation of Pittsburgh. J. Steele Gow, director of the foundation announced.

POLIO SPREADING

Pittsburgh, July 17 (AP)—City Health Director Dr. I. Hope Alexander reported two additional cases of infantile paralysis have been reported here, bringing the city's total to 31 and the district total to 43.

SPORT SHORTS

Pittsburgh, July 17 (AP)—Mello Bettina, the Beacon, N. Y., belter now ranked No. 5 among the nation's heavyweights, and Curtis (the hatchet man) Sheppard, of Pittsburgh, scheduled light limbering up drills today to wind up training for their ten-round battle tomorrow night at Forbes Field.

Bettina, former lightweight champion, was rated an 8-5 favorite over the slugging Sheppard in this battle between two virtually diametrically opposite styles of fighting—a fight that will see the bobbing, weaving, rushing southpaw New Yorker opposing a puncher who is content to fight defensively while awaiting an opening for a hammer-like right hand.

Baltimore, June 17 (AP)—Baltimore's International league pennant aspirations took an upward leap today as Ace Pitcher Sam Lowry returned to the mound instead of entering the Navy as scheduled.

Announcement of his deferment by his Philadelphia draft board until after the expected birth of a child to his wife this fall was made yesterday by Oriole Manager "Tommy" Thomas after Lowry, in the first end of a double-header against Jersey City, pitched what was thought to be his last game for the duration. The 9-3 win was his fight against five defeats.

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—George Case, Washington's base-stealer de luxe, will hook up in a speed duel with fleet Thurman Tucker of the White Sox featuring a war relief baseball show scheduled July 26 at Comiskey Park. They'll match strides in a 60-yard sprint.

Wellsville Snowed Under By Lockport

Buffalo, N. Y., July 17 (AP)—The league leading Lockport Cubs snowed the Wellsville Yankees under last night in an avalanche of 20 runs in two innings to capture the first game of a double header 20-2.

Wellsville took the lead in the first inning of the second game but lost it in the fourth when the Cubs gained five runs and added 10 more in the remaining innings to make the score 16-5.

The Hornell Pirates played errorless ball for nine innings but lost to the Batavia Clippers 4-3.

Erie was within one run of tying the Olean Oilers when Pitcher Jack Banta struck out two of the Sailors ending the game 7-6.

The Bradford Blue wins nosed out the Jamestown Falcons 7-6 despite a last minute Falcon rally which netted three runs in the ninth.
